Introduction

Who is this book for?

Business Vocabulary in Use Elementary to Pre-intermediate will help Elementary to Pre-intermediate learners of business English learn business vocabulary. It is for people studying English before they start work and those who need English in their job.

In addition to improving your business vocabulary, the book helps you to learn the language needed for important business communication skills.

You can use the book on your own for self-study, with a teacher, one-to-one or in groups.

How is the book organized?

The book has 66 two-page units. Some units look at the vocabulary for different business subjects. Others focus on the language of business skills, for example in emails and meetings.

The left-hand page of each unit explains new words and expressions, and the right-hand page has exercises to allow you to check and develop your understanding of the words and expressions.

There are also four Learner training units to help you learn business English. These deal with talking about language, pronunciation, learning vocabulary and using dictionaries. They are positioned before Units 1, 16, 31 and 42, but you can use them at any time.

There is an Answer key at the back of the book. Most of the exercises have questions with only one correct answer.

There is also an Index. This lists all the new words and phrases in the book, and gives the unit numbers where they appear. It also tells you how the words and phrases are pronounced.

This page introduces new vocabulary and expressions. The presentation is divided into sections indicated by letters: A, B, C, etc., with simple, clear titles.

Key words and expressions to learn are in bold. There are notes about differences between British English (BrE) and American English (AmE), pronunciation, and common mistakes made by Elementary to Pre-intermediate learners of business English.

'Over to you' sections

An important feature of Business Vocabulary in Use Elementary to Pre-intermediate is the Over to you section at the end of each unit. These sections give you the chance to practise the words and expressions in the unit. Self-study learners can do this as a written activity. In the classroom, the Over to you sections can be used as the basis for discussion with the whole class or in small groups. The teacher can then get students to look again at exercises relating to points that have caused difficulty. Students can follow up by using the Over to you section as a written activity, for example as homework. The Answer key contains sample answers for the Over to you questions.

How to use the book for self-study

Find the topic you are looking for by using the Contents page or the Index. Read through the explanations on the left-hand page of the unit. Do the exercises on the right-hand page. Check your answers in the Answer key. If you have made some mistakes, go back and look at the explanations and the exercise again. Note down important words and expressions in your notebook.

How to use the book in the classroom

Teachers can choose units that relate to their students' particular needs and interests. Alternatively, lessons can contain a regular vocabulary slot, where students look systematically at the vocabulary of particular thematic or skills areas.

Students can work on the units in pairs, with the teacher going round the class assisting and advising.

Cambridge International Corpus

This book uses the Cambridge International Corpus (CIC) – a very large collection of English texts, stored in a computerised database, which can be searched to see how English is used. This includes the Cambridge Learner Corpus (CLC), a large collection of writing by learners of English, including writing from the Cambridge Business English Certificate (BEC) exams. The database has been used for the notes about typical mistakes made by learners of business English.

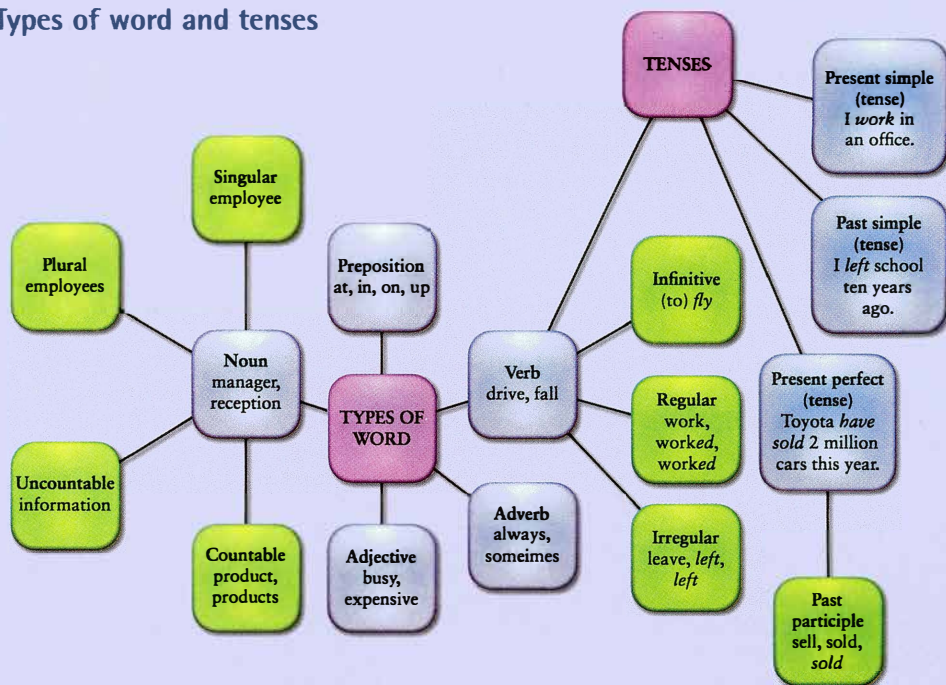

CD-ROM

This second edition of Business Vocabulary in Use Elementary to Pre-intermediate is available in two versions. You can use the book either on its own or with the CD-ROM, a major innovation. This includes an audio file for every key word and expression in the book, with its pronunciation and an example sentence. In addition, there are two extra exercises for each unit of the book, fourteen summary tests so you can check your progress, and even some vocabulary games.

We hope you enjoy using Business Vocabulary in Use Elementary to Pre-intermediate.

3 Types of work

A Jobs and work

A Marks and Spencer (M&S) manager talks about the company:

'I work for Marks and Spencer. In our shops, we have employees – people who work for our company – who have full-time jobs. Full-time employees usually work around 40 hours /aʊəz/ a week, but they can also do overtime – where they work longer and get more money.

'Some employees have a part-time job. For example, some people work 20 hours a week.

'Most people at M&S have a permanent job – they have no finish date.

'Some people here do temporary work for a short period.

'Every employee has a contract – an agreement about how long they work, when they work, etc.'

employer /ɪm'plɔɪə/employee /ɪm'plɔɪi/

B Stopping work

'When employees at M&S are 65, they retire – stop work because of their age. They receive a good pension – payment for people who retire.

'If someone leaves the company, for example to move to another company, they resign /rɪ'zaɪn/ – tell the company they are leaving.

'We make people redundant if we don't have work for them or if we have financial problems.

'If someone has done something wrong or stupid, then we dismiss or fire them – ask them to leave the company.'

C I work with ...

I work with people.

I work with customers – people who buy our products.

I work with computers.

I like my colleagues /'kɒli:gz/ – people that work with me.

I don't work with suppliers – companies that we buy products from.

3.1 Complete the crossword with the correct form of words from A, B and C opposite.

Across

- 2 Someone who buys your products (8)
 4 Someone who works for a company (8)
 6 People who work with you (10)
 7 My job only lasts two months: it's (9,4)
 10 and 14 People who only work part of the day or week have part-..... (4,4) 11 If a company doesn't need employees any more, it makes them (9) 13 If you leave your job to move to another one, you (6)
 14 See 10 across

Down

- 1 When you work more than the normal
 hours, you do (8)
 3 Companies who sell products to others (9)
 5 When you stop working because of your age, you (6)
 6 You can't work without these nowadays (9)
 8 An agreement about how much you work, what you do, etc. (8)
 9 Money you get after you stop work (7)
 12 To tell someone to leave their job, for example because they have made a mistake: to them (7)

3.2 Complete the tables with words from B opposite.

Verb	Noun
	retirement resignation /ˌreziɡˈneɪʃən/dismissal

Noun	Adjective
redundancy

3.3 Complete these sentences with the correct forms of words from 3.2 above.

- 1 There was no more work at the factory, so my company made me
 2 I don't like what the company is doing, so I'm going to and find another job.
 3 Pedro took money from the company, so they had to him.
 4 In most countries, you can't until you're 65.

Over to you

Think about your job or one that you would like to have. Is it a full-time job or a part-time job? Is it permanent or temporary?

4 Work and numbers

A How many employees are there?

- Interviewer: How many employees are there at M&S?
- M&S manager: Approximately 75,000.
- Interviewer: And how many branches – shops – are there?
- M&S manager: There are 600 shops in the UK and about half that number in the rest of the world. I think the exact figure is 295.
- Interviewer: Is there one in China?
- M&S manager: Yes, there is. There's one in Shanghai.
- Interviewer: Are there many offices?
- M&S manager: There's one head office and there are four other offices in the UK.
- Interviewer: And how many hours a week do the employees work?
- M&S manager: In the UK, full-time employees work 42 hours a week on average, including overtime – some work 40 hours a week and some work 44.

B Sites

- Interviewer: Where is M&S's head office?
- M&S manager: M&S's head office is in London. About 1,000 people work there. Most of the top managers work there, of course.
- Interviewer: How many other sites – places with buildings – are there in the UK?
- M&S manager: Well, we have the head office, the other offices, the store branches and our warehouse. We keep the products there before they go to the stores.
- Interviewer: So how many sites are there altogether?
- M&S manager: There are five offices including the head office. Then there's the warehouse, so there are six sites altogether.

To learn more about numbers, see Units 8, 9, 16 and 17.

Note

You don't use 'There is' with plural nouns. For example, you don't say 'There is six sites.'

4.1 Look at these sentences with expressions from A and B opposite. They are about El Corte Inglés. Choose the correct word.

- 1 El Corte Inglés has 61 shops
(altogether / approximately). There are 59 shops in Spain and two in Portugal.
- 2 It has about 100,000 employees – I think the (average / exact) figure is 100,421.
- 3 At one shop, there are about 300 employees (including / approximately) three managers.
- 4 Some employees work 46 hours a week, some work 44, and some 42 – so that's 44 (altogether / on average).

4.2 Complete this interview with an employee from El Corte Inglés with expressions from A and B opposite.

- Interviewer: (1) people work for El Corte Inglés?
 Employee: It's not a big company. There are (2) 100,000 employees in Spain and Portugal – the (3) is 100,421.
- Interviewer: And (4) branches are there?
 Employee: (5) 59 branches in Spain and two in Portugal, so there are 61 (6)
- Interviewer: (7) two head offices – one in Madrid and one in Lisbon?
 Employee: No, (8) only one head office. It's in Madrid.
- Interviewer: How many (9) do you work?
 Employee: Sometimes 40, sometimes 42, so (10) I work 41 hours a week.

4.3 Look at A and B opposite. Then look at the diagram and complete the sentences.

Lidl Supermarkets

- 1 Lidl Supermarkets is an international company with its in Neckarsulm, Germany.
- 2 They have a total of 3,007 where they sell their products in Germany and more than 5,000 in the rest of Europe.

John Cheng phones his business contact in Lagos, Daniel Achebe, from his hotel room.

John Cheng: It's John Cheng here. I've just got in and I'm at the Otuwa Hotel.

Daniel Achebe: Welcome to Lagos, Mr Cheng.

John Cheng: Thanks. It's nice to be here.

Daniel Achebe: How was your flight?

John Cheng: It was delayed two hours, but the flight itself was OK.

Daniel Achebe: What about dinner this evening?

John Cheng: That's very kind, but I'm rather tired after the flight.

I'd prefer to stay here and rest instead. What about tomorrow evening, after our meeting?

Daniel Achebe: OK, I'll let you get some rest. I'll send a driver round to pick you up tomorrow morning and bring you to our offices. What about meeting at 8.30? It'll take about an hour to get to our office. The traffic in Lagos is very heavy, especially at that time of day.

John Cheng: That would be great. 8.30 is fine. I look forward to seeing you tomorrow.

Daniel Achebe: Me too. Goodnight.

C Making contact 2

Daniel Achebe: Ah, Mr Cheng, good morning. Very nice to meet you. How are you feeling this morning? What's your hotel like? Did you have a good rest?

John Cheng: Yes, thanks. The hotel's very comfortable and the room service is very efficient. I had something to eat in my room and then I slept very well.

Daniel Achebe: Yes, the Otuwa Hotel has an excellent reputation – people say a lot of good things about it. Let's have some coffee, and then we'll get down to business.

Note

10 Who's the boss?

A Managers and employees

This is part of the organization chart for Exquifoods, an Asian company that makes food products. The managers are responsible for different activities. For example, the research and development director is in charge of developing products.

Note

formal: chief executive, manager informal: boss

Note

chief executive officer
/tʃi:f ɪg,zekjʊtɪv 'ɒfɪsə/

B Managing departments

Kajan Lim is the sales director at Exquifoods – he is the head of the sales department. There are 38 people who work under Kajan – 2 sales managers, 35 salespeople and his personal assistant (PA), Shindu Chan. Shindu helps Kajan with his work. For example, Shindu is responsible for organizing Kajan's meetings.

Note

singular: salesperson, salesman, saleswoman plural: salespeople

Note

The spelling is responsible, not 'responsable'.

10.1 Correct these statements about expressions from A and B opposite.

- 1 You can use the word 'boss' in a formal report.
- 2 The person in charge of sales in a company is the selling director.
- 3 If you work under someone, you are that person's boss.
- 4 PA stands for professional assistant.
- 5 Someone in charge of a department can be referred to as its header.

10.2 Look at A opposite. Who is in charge of the following? Look at the example before you begin.

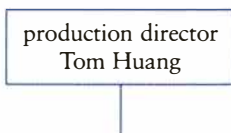

- 1 making the products the production director
- 2 getting the money to develop the products
- 3 running the whole company
- 4 finding customers for the products
- 5 thinking of new ideas for products

10.3 Now write sentences with the same information as in 10.2 above, using 'responsible for'. Look at the example before you begin.

- 1 The production director is responsible for making the products.
- 5

10.4 Look at B opposite. Then draw an organization chart for the production department at Exquifoods based on this information and write sentences to describe it.

- Tom Huang – production director
- 6 production engineers
- a personal assistant – Steve Tsai
- 125 production workers

Tom Huang is in charge of production.

Over to you

Draw an organization chart for your department or a department that you know about.

A Office work

The salespeople at Exquifoods share a big office. Each salesperson has a PC /ˈpiːˈsiː/ – personal computer. All the PCs are connected together on a network so that the salespeople can work with each other and work online.

But today the network is down – it isn't working. Some of the salespeople are out with customers, but those who are in the office can't do their paperwork – for example, they can't work on or print their sales reports for the month. However, they can make photocopies using a photocopier.

They can't access data – information – in the database /ˈdeɪtəbeɪs/ – the central place for this on the network. And they can't send emails to communicate /kəˈmjuːnɪkeɪt/ with customers and colleagues.

Of course, communication with others – sending and receiving information – is very important. Each salesperson can make conference calls with three people or more on different phones. They sometimes communicate with people in other places with videoconferencing (see Units 52 and 59), but they can't do this today as it also depends on the network and access to the Internet.

B Factory work

At Exquifoods, the production workers make or produce thousands of food products every month. The production line is automated /ˈɔːtəmeɪtɪd/ which means that many of the tasks are done automatically by machines. In addition, some of the work is done manually /ˈmænjuəli/ or by hand. Today, production workers in the factory are working normally – as usual. The production line is working smoothly. But there can be problems if a machine breaks down and stops working.

C Laboratory work

In the research and development (R&D) department at Exquifoods, there is a special laboratory or lab. The researchers or research workers work on new food products. They do research into new foods. Today they are testing one of the foods to see if it tastes good, will last a long time, etc.

D Out of the office

When the salespeople are travelling, they use their mobile phones. They use their laptops or notebook computers to access the Internet, using either mobile Internet on a mobile phone network or Wi-Fi /ˈwaɪfaɪ/ networks – ones where you don't need a cable to connect – in cafés, hotels, etc.

Note

BrE: mobile phone or mobile
AmE: cellphone or cell

Note

Laptop is more frequent than notebook. Owners usually use the first expression and manufacturers use the second.

11.1 Replace the underlined words and expressions with words and expressions from A opposite.

- 1 It's very difficult to work when this is down.
- 2 They are our main form of communication with customers and colleagues.
- 3 Doing all this – sales reports and so on – is boring, but it's an important part of our work.
- 4 We are trying to reduce the number of copies that we make with this machine.
- 5 We try to inform the people in other departments about the things that we are doing.
- 6 These give information about the products that have been sold.
- 7 The people who buy our products are more important than anyone else.
- 8 Giving information to customers and colleagues, and receiving it from them is a key part of what we do.

11.2 Complete the table with words from B opposite.

Adjective	Adverb
automatic manual normal smooth

11.3 Now complete these sentences with adverbs from 11.2 above.

- 1 He writes down the information using pen and paper.
- 2 My job is to make sure that the business system runs and that all our projects are successful.
- 3 There were technical problems, but now the factory is running
- 4 Production planning is done overnight by computer.

11.4 Find expressions in B, C and D opposite which match these phrases.

- 1 a place where you find research workers (2 expressions)
- 2 someone who makes something in a factory
- 3 something that is used to make something
- 4 the American name for what is called a mobile in British English (2 expressions)
- 5 work to find new products, new ways of making things, etc.
- 6 two ways of connecting to the Internet when you are travelling
- 7 a computer that you can carry easily (2 expressions)

13 Skills

A Are you good with people?

- Mary is very good with people.
- She is good with figures.
- She isn't very good with languages.

- Lee is very good with figures.
- He is good with computers.
- He isn't very good with people.

Note

You use good or very good in affirmative sentences and not very good with negatives.

B Skills

- Mary has people skills – she is very good with people.
- She doesn't have language skills – she isn't very good with languages.

Mary also has very good:

- management skills – she's a very good manager.
- listening skills – she listens carefully to what people say.
- presentation skills – she explains things very clearly.

- Lee has computer skills – he is good with computers.
- He doesn't have people skills – he isn't very good with people.

Lee also has very good:

- problem-solving skills – he finds an answer to every problem.
- negotiating skills – he is good at discussing things when people don't agree.
- language skills – he grew up speaking Cantonese, and he also speaks very good English and Japanese.

C Skilled and unskilled workers

At Exquifoods, there are a lot of skilled workers – people with special skills, sometimes called specialists or experts, for example production specialists and research workers. There are also unskilled workers – people without special skills, for example production workers and cleaners.

A skilled worker

An unskilled worker

13.1 Look at A opposite. Read the sentences about Ricardo and Fabia, and decide what they are (not) (very) good with. Look at the example before you begin.

1 Ricardo likes computers and he knows how they work.

He's (very) good with computers.

2 When Fabia uses a computer, she has problems.

3 When employees are unhappy, Fabia can help them.

4 When employees are unhappy, Ricardo can't help them.

5 Ricardo speaks Chinese and Japanese very well.

6 Fabia doesn't speak any other languages.

7 When Ricardo looks at the company's figures, he knows how to make them better.

8 When Fabia looks at the company's figures, she doesn't understand them.

13.2 Look at B opposite. Now describe the skills of the people in 1–6 in 13.1 above. Look at the example before you begin.

13.3 Answer the questions with expressions from B opposite. What skills do employees need if a company wants to do the following?

1 sell to countries where they speak another language

2 find answers to their problems

3 tell people clearly about their ideas and products

4 sell products at the right price when the customers don't want to pay that price

5 understand what people want

6 manage the company well

13.4 Look at C opposite. Are these sentences true or false?

1 A specialist is someone without skills.

2 Cleaners are unskilled workers.

3 Research workers in laboratories are unskilled.

4 Experts have skills in a particular area.

5 All production workers are production specialists.

6 Skilled workers are usually paid less than unskilled ones.

- Think of a colleague. What skills does he or she have?

14 Qualifications and training

Qualifications

Look at Lee Kuo's business card. He is a research and development director. This is his job title. He holds – has – an MS. This is one of his qualifications.

Lee also has a BS, but this isn't mentioned as he has a postgraduate degree too.

University course	Degrees	AmE abbreviation	BrE abbreviation
three or four years	Bachelor of Arts Bachelor of Science	BA BS	BA BSc
one more year	Master of Arts Master of Science Master of Business Administration These are all Master's or postgraduate degrees.	MA MS MBA	MA MSc MBA

Training

Training is teaching or learning for a specific job. For example, you can train as a doctor, an architect, an accountant, an engineer or a lawyer.

You can go on a training course to gain, get or learn specific skills in computers, management and other areas – subjects.

A lot of people now have on-the-job training – they go on courses which are organized by their company. And they gain experience and learn things while they are working.

In this context, you talk about your experience (uncountable noun), not your 'experiences'.

14.1 Look at A opposite. Read the sentences and complete the business cards.

14.2 Use expressions from B opposite to complete this interview with Olivia, an Italian car designer. You can use some expressions more than once.

Interviewer: Olivia, how many cars have you designed?

Olivia: More than 20.

Interviewer: So you have a lot of (1) _____!

Do you use English in your work?

Olivia: Yes, I do. But I trained (2) _____ a designer in the 1970s and English wasn't so important then.

Interviewer: So what did you do to (3) _____ (3 expressions) English language (4) _____?

Olivia: I went on short courses at work – you know, (5) _____ language training.

Interviewer: Was that enough?

Olivia: No, it wasn't. So I decided to go on a three-month (6) _____ in the US a few years ago to get these skills. Now, people tell me that I speak English very well!

Over to you

Think of your job or one you would like. Are qualifications needed? Is training important?

15 E-learning

A Types of training

Olivia went on a full-time course to study English in the US – she studied for 35 hours per week. Some people study part-time – they go to evening courses one or two evenings a week, for example.

Some companies run in-house training, using trainers in the company or from outside the company.

Some companies are famous for the quality of their training. For example, Nestlé is well known for its training and has six training centres in Switzerland, France, the UK, Spain, Mexico and Brazil. Nestlé employees from all over the world go to Switzerland for seminars and training courses.

B E-learning

When there are people together in a room with a trainer, the training is face-to-face. But you can do more and more courses at a distance – for example, you can get a degree with distance learning by studying online. You don't have to go to the university: you study on the Internet. This is e-learning /'i:lɜ:nɪŋ/ – electronic learning.

On the Internet, you can:

- download materials to your computer and upload assignments – written work – that you have done for your tutor /'tju:tə/ – teacher – to read. You can do this by email, for example.
- watch and listen to lectures
- talk to your tutor via – with – a webcam

Note

Teachers typically work in schools. Lecturers work in universities, giving lectures to large numbers of students. Tutors work in one-to-one situations, like online learning. Trainers work in companies.

C Lifelong learning

The idea that you can learn all through your life, not just at school and university, is called lifelong learning or continuing education.

Learner training B: Pronunciation

A Pronunciation symbols

The phonetic alphabet is used to show the pronunciation of words – how you say them.

The alphabet is made up of vowels and consonants. Vowels are the sounds usually shown by the letters a, e, i, o, u in English words. Consonants are all the other sounds.

Some words have silent letters – letters that you don't say – like the h in hour.

Here are the pronunciation symbols in the phonetic alphabet. These symbols are used in most dictionaries and in the Index of this book.

Vowels			Consonants
ɪ miss	ʊ full	ɑ: park	b become	k kind	s site
e head	ə about	ɔ: board	d do	l land	t task
æ bank	i study	u: too	f first	m make	v varied
ʌ bus	u: commute	ɜ: work	g go	n nice	w walk
ɒ job	i: week		h hotel	p point	z zero
			j you	r rest
ei train	au how	uə poor	dʒ join	θ third	ʒ baggage
aɪ buy	ɪə here	aɪə fire	ŋ meeting	ʃ shop	tʃ check ɔɪ join	eə there	auə hour	ð the əʊ show

B Stress

The phonetic transcription of words also shows where you put the stress – which part of the word you say the most strongly.

For example, the stress for the noun produce is different from the stress for the verb produce. For the noun, you emphasize the first part. For the verb, you emphasize the second part.

produce (noun)

produce (verb)

Phonetic transcriptions include a small line before the part that you emphasize.

/ˈprɒdju:s/ (noun)

/prədˈju:s/ (verb)

Some long words and word combinations have both primary stress /ˈ/ and secondary stress /,/. You emphasize the primary stress the most. You also emphasize the secondary stress, but less than the primary stress.

Note the stress marks in 'qualifications' and 'business card'.

/ˌkwɒlɪfɪˈkeɪʃənz/

/ˈbɪznɪs ˌkɑ:d/

These stress marks are used in most dictionaries and in the Index of this book.

- B1 Match the words (1–8) from Units 1 to 14 with their phonetic transcription (a–h). Look at the example before you begin.

1–d

1 branch	a /flaɪt/
2 drive	b /dʒɒb/

oh-seven-oh-five

fifteen hundred (hours)

eleven twenty twenty-three hundred (hours)

twenty-three fifty-nine

Note

You use the 24-hour clock mainly for timetables. You don't use it to talk about times for meeting friends, etc.

Note

BrE: timetable; AmE: schedule /'skedju:l/
Schedule is used in BrE, pronounced /'fedju:l/, to talk about programmes of work, etc. with the different steps involved (see Unit 21).

Look at this train timetable.

Note
AmE: You usually say March first and you always write March 1 or March 1st or 3/1.
In informal writing, BrE: 1/3; AmE: 3/1.

Be careful with:

20th	twentieth	22nd	twenty-second	30th	thirtieth
21st	twenty-first	23rd	twenty-third	31st	thirty-first

In many countries, Monday to Friday are weekdays, and Saturday and Sunday are the weekend.

The meeting is on Monday the seventh of March.

The training course starts on March the twenty-third.

C Public holidays

Some days are national holidays or public holidays when many businesses are closed. For example: New Year's Day is on 1st January and 1st May is a national holiday in many countries.

Many countries (but not the UK) have a national or independence day. For example, 28th October is the Czech Republic's national day.

Note
In BrE, public holidays are also called bank holidays.

- 18.1 Look at A, B and C opposite. Write each of these dates for national or independence days in one of the ways you can say it. Look at the example before you begin.

Sebastian: Are you free for a coffee on Wednesday afternoon?

Tina: I'm afraid I'm (1) on Wednesday afternoon. I'm seeing a customer.

Sebastian: Can we (2) on Thursday?

Tina: Yes, I'm (3) on Thursday.

Sebastian: Where (4) we meet?

Tina: Let's meet (5) Pierre's café.

Sebastian: (6) shall we meet?

Tina: (7) (2 expressions) about four o'clock?

Sebastian: See you there at four.

Over to you

Look at your diary. Talk about four things that you are doing next week.

Project management

A We must finish on time

Josh Damon is a building engineer with a construction company:

'I'm working on an important project at the moment, a very big office building. I manage the project. I'm the project manager.

'The building must be completed by December next year. It mustn't be late. We must finish on time. Any delay would be bad. Projects must not take longer than planned. This is one of the most important things in project management.'

B The schedule

This is the schedule for the project.

	Year 1				Year 2
	Jan-Mar	Apr-Jun	Jul-Sept	Oct-Dec	Jan-Mar	Apr-Jun	Jul-Sept	Oct-Dec
Build the foundations	x
Build floors 1-20		x	x
Build floors 21-40				x	x
Build floors 41-60						x	x
Put in the electricity							x
Painting							x	x
Completion								x

It is now January in Year 1. Look at the different stages of the project.

For example, building the foundations – the part under the ground – will take three months, from January to March in Year 1.

Building floors 1-20 is going to take six months, from April to September in Year 1.

Josh explains:

'If we finish on schedule, the building will be completed in December next year. In other words, the deadline is December next year. It would be great if we finish ahead of schedule – before the time planned – or on schedule – at the time planned. We don't want to get behind schedule – finish after the time planned.'

C We're behind schedule

Look at what really happened to the building project.

	Year 1				Year 2				Year 3
	Jan-Mar	Apr-Jun	Jul-Sept	Oct-Dec	Jan-Mar	Apr-Jun	Jul-Sept	Oct-Dec	Jan-Mar	Apr-Jun	Jul-Sept	Oct-Dec
Build the foundations	x	x
Build floors 1-20			x	x	x
Build floors 21-40						x
Build floors 41-60							x	x	x	x
Put in the electricity										x	x
Painting											x
Completion												x

Instead of taking three months, building the foundations took six months. So, it took three months longer than planned.

Instead of taking six months, building floors 21-40 took three months. It took three months less than planned.

Note

Note the spelling of planned, not 'planned'.

21.1 Use expressions from A opposite to complete these sentences.

- 1 When something is planned to take six months and it takes a year, there is a
- 2 When you finish a project, you can say that it is
- 3 The person who manages a project is the
- 4 If something isn't finished on time, it is finished

21.2 Write sentences about the other stages in the project in B opposite, using the verb in brackets. Look at the examples before you begin.

- 1 Build foundations (will)
Building the foundations will take three months, from January to March in Year 1.
- 2 Build floors 1–20 (going to)
Building floors 1–20 is going to take six months, from April to September in Year 1.
- 3 Build floors 21–40 (will)
.....
- 4 Build floors 41–60 (going to)
.....
- 5 Put in electricity (will)
.....
- 6 Painting (going to)
.....

21.3 Look at C opposite. Write sentences to say what really happened in the building project. Look at the examples before you begin.

- 1 Build foundations
Instead of taking three months, building the foundations took six months.
It took three months longer than planned.
- 2 Build floors 1–20
- 3 Build floors 21–40

Over to you

Think about one of your recent projects. How long was it planned to take? How long did it take in the end?

A Spare time

Grace: What do you do in your spare time¹?Rita: I'm interested in music, so I go to a concert once a week².

2

Grace: Do you play an instrument?

Rita: Yes, I play the piano, but not very often.

3

Rita: What about you? How do you relax³?Grace: I go swimming at the pool near my office and I play a lot of golf. I play at least twice a week⁴. Relaxation is very important.

Rita: Really. I play golf too. How about a game tomorrow after our meeting?

Grace: Good idea. I can take a break⁵ in the afternoon.¹when you are not working²one time every week³rest after working⁴two times a week or more⁵stop work for a short time

Note

Interested has a silent e in many varieties of English, so be careful with the spelling, not 'intrested'.

B Word combinations with 'have' and 'take'

have take	a break a coffee break a tea break your lunch break a day off the day off a long weekend – the weekend and Friday and/or Monday a holiday three days' holiday two weeks' holiday

Note

You have the day off if the company gives you the time, for example: 'I have four days off over Christmas.'
You take the day off if you decide to take the time, for example: 'I took the day off to go to see a football match.'

C Going on holiday

Pierre works for a financial services company in Paris:

'I have five weeks' holiday a year. I take three weeks in summer and two weeks in winter. And I sometimes take long weekends too.'

'In summer, I don't stay in France. I go abroad – to another country. I like to go on holiday somewhere very hot.'

'In winter, I stay in France. I go skiing in the Alps.'

'Sometimes it's important to take it easy – relax.'

Note

BrE: holiday
AmE: vacation

Note

Don't confuse abroad with aboard. You go abroad when you go to another country. If you go aboard a ship, plane, bus or train, you get on it.

22.1 Look at A and C opposite and put the expressions (a–h) in the correct box.

- a cycling c diving e golf g photography
b basketball d the drums f jazz h the trumpet

I go	running mountain climbing

23 Notes and coins

A Notes and coins

In Canada there are notes or banknotes for:

$100 $50 $20 $10 $5

The Canadian dollar is divided into 100 cents. There are coins for:

$1 50 cents 25 cents 10 cents 5 cents 1 cent

The notes and coins of a country are its currency.

A hundred-dollar note

A 25-cent coin

Note

You put the symbol ($, £, €, etc.) before the number, not after.

Note

BrE: note, banknote
AmE: bill

Note

Things can cost 100 dollars or 25 cents (plural), but the singular form is used before note, e.g. a hundred-dollar note, and coin, e.g. a 25-cent coin.

B Changing money

Marion is going on holiday to Canada. To change or exchange money, she goes to a bank or bureau de change /ˌbʊərəʊ də ˈʃɔːnɪŋ/. She asks these questions:

1 What's the currency in Canada?

3 How much commission do you charge?

2 What's the exchange rate?
How many Canadian dollars are there to the euro /jʊərəʊ/?

4 If I have some Canadian currency at the end of my holiday, can I change it back into euros?

Note

Commission is the money that you have to pay when you change money. The spelling is not 'comision', 'commision' or 'comission'.

C Abbreviations

Here are some countries' currencies and their abbreviations:

Country	Currency	Divided into	Abbreviation
China	renminbi or yuan	10 jiao	CNY
Japan	Japanese yen	—	JPY
Russia	ruble or rouble	100 kopeks	RRB
Switzerland	Swiss franc	100 centimes	CHF
the United Kingdom	pound (sterling)	100 pence	GBP
the United States	US dollar	100 cents	USD

- 23.1 Look at A opposite. Match the notes and coins of the euro countries (1–6) with their names (a–f).

- a a two-euro coin c a fifty-euro note e a fifty-cent coin
b a twenty-euro note d a one-euro coin f a hundred-euro note

- 23.2 Match these answers (a–d) with the questions in B opposite.

- a There are about 1.6 Canadian dollars to the euro.
b We charge 1 per cent commission.
c It's the Canadian dollar.
d Yes, you can change the notes back but not the coins.

- 23.3 Look at B and C opposite. Complete the dialogue with the correct expressions.

- A: How was your business trip to Japan?
B: Great, thanks. I'm just going to the bank to (1)
the money I didn't spend.
A: What's the (2) in Japan?
B: It's the yen. Look – this is a (3)
It's worth about $5.50.
A: Oh, it's very nice.
B: Yes. Did you know that the yen is not (4) into other units? There are no cents, just yen.
A: What's the (5) for the yen?
B: It's JPY.

Over to you

Talk about the currency, notes and coins of a country that you have visited. What is or was the exchange rate with your currency?

24 Prices

A Talking about prices

Camry
$19,395

Prius
$22,000

Venza
$24,975

Avalon
$27,845

How much is the red one?
What's the price of this model?
How much does the Camry cost?

The red one is
The price of this model is
The Camry costs

$19,395.

Note

Cost is an irregular verb. The past tense and past participle are cost, not 'eosted'.

B Tax

Sometimes you pay tax on the basic price – this gives the total price. Prices are shown including tax (inc. tax) – or excluding tax – (excl. tax).

In most states in the US, and in some other countries, you pay sales tax on some things that you buy. For example, in Mississippi, the rate of sales tax is 6 per cent.

This beautiful book is $100.00 per copy. Mississippi residents add sales tax of $6.00.

The basic price is $100 and you add six dollars sales tax if you live in Mississippi.

In Europe and some other places, you pay VAT (value added tax) at a particular rate on some products and services. For example, the standard rate in Sweden on most things is 24 per cent and in the UK it's 17.5 per cent. There is sometimes a reduced rate on some products, like children's clothes.

Mountain Castle video game

Price: £20.00 excl. VAT
£23.50 inc. VAT at 17.5 per cent.

We have to add £3.50 VAT onto the basic price of £20, so the price including VAT is £23.50.

C 'Value' and 'worth'

To talk about the price of something which is not for sale, you can use value or worth /wɜːθ/.

The value of the Sultan of Brunei's yacht is $500 million.

Damien Hirst's diamond skull is worth $50 million.

This Henry Moore sculpture was worth £3 million, but it was sold by thieves for £1,500.

24.1 Complete the dialogue with expressions from A opposite.

- A: (1) is this one?
 B: This one (2) $500.
 A: And what's the (3)
 that one over there?
 B: That one is $300.
 A: And what about the black one? How (4) that one ?
 B: That one (5) $200.

24.2 Look at B opposite. Are the sentences true (T) or false (F)?

- 1 The basic price is the same as the price including tax.
- 2 VAT stands for 'Value added tax'.
- 3 The abbreviation for 'excluding' is 'excl.'.
- 4 The standard rate of VAT is the one for most products.
- 5 People in the US pay VAT.
- 6 People pay sales tax in all states of the US.

24.3 Look at C opposite and complete the sentences.

- 1 The value this house £250 million.
- 2 This helicopter worth $5.9 million.
- 3 These figures worth $3,000 each.
- 4 The value of dress €10,000,000.
- 5 This painting worth $104 million.
- 6 The value this office building $510 million.

Over to you

Is there sales tax or VAT in your country? If so, what is the standard rate and the reduced rate for different types of products?

A Amounts of money 1

You talk about exact amounts of money and write amounts on cheques like this:

$12.99 twelve dollars (and) ninety-nine cents twelve dollars ninety-nine twelve ninety-nine

£211.53 two hundred and eleven pounds (and) fifty-three pence two hundred and eleven pounds fifty-three two hundred and eleven, fifty-three

€33,972.35 thirty-three thousand nine hundred and seventy-two euros (and) thirty-five cents thirty-three thousand nine hundred and seventy-two euros thirty-five thirty-three thousand nine hundred and seventy-two, thirty-five

Note

BrE: cheque
 AmE: check

Note

In BrE, you usually say and in numbers, but in AmE you don't usually say 'and' in numbers. To learn more about this, see Unit 8. Note the pronunciation of and here: /ənd/ or /ən/.

Note

Amounts of money are also called, formally, sums of money.

B Amounts of money 2

You can refer to large amounts of money like this:

£2,250,000 two and a quarter million pounds

£2.25 million £2.25 m

€6,500,000,000 six and a half billion euros

€6.5 billion €6.5 bn

¥19,750,000,000 nineteen and three quarter billion yen

¥19.75 billion ¥19.75 bn

To learn more about fractions, see Unit 9.

Note

You don't say 'nineteen and three quarters billion yen'.

C Approximate amounts

When you don't give an exact amount, but you want to give an idea of the size of a figure which is large in your opinion, you use of:

This camera costs hundreds of euros.

hundreds	of	pounds
thousands		euros
hundreds of thousands		dollars
millions		yen billions

Note

You can't say 'five hundred of euros' or 'five hundreds of euros'.

When you give an exact figure, you do not use the word of. For example, you say:

This camera costs five hundred and twenty-five euros.

When you don't give an exact figure, you can also use:

The price of this house is	about around roughly approximately	£2,500,000.
----------------------------	---	-------------

Note

About, around and roughly are less formal than approximately.

These words show that the figure is not exact – it is near this amount, but may be higher or lower.

Talk about prices of houses and flats in your area, using 'about', 'around', 'roughly' and 'approximately'. Talk about a big house, a small house, a big flat and a small flat.

A It's so expensive

Maricel has a small design company (three people) in Manila, Philippines:

'Buying equipment – the things we need – is very expensive. For example, we need powerful computers and they cost a lot of money – the prices are high.

'We don't have enough money, so we can't afford to buy new computers very often.

'We spend all the money that we make from sales paying our staff and buying equipment. It's difficult to save any – to keep and not spend it.'

Note

Equipment is uncountable.
You can't say 'equipments'.

B Careful with money

Maricel is talking to a friend, Rey:

Maricel: What's it like in your company? Are you careful with money?

Rey: Yes, we are. We try not to spend too much.

Maricel: How do you try to save money?

Rey: We don't have more employees than we need, and we buy things when there are reductions and discounts – lower prices than usual. We try not to waste money by buying things that we don't need.

C Loans

Maricel: Do you rent your offices – pay money to use a building that someone else owns – or are you buying them?

Rey: We're buying them. We borrowed 20 million pesos from the bank, but it's difficult to repay the loan. What about you?

Maricel: The bank lent us 30 million pesos and we have to pay back around 100,000 pesos per month.

Note

You can say '100,000 pesos per month' or '100,000 pesos a month'.

26.1 Complete the table with words from A, B and C opposite.

Verb	Noun
	cost lend repayment savings

26.2 Choose the correct word to complete each sentence.

- 1 The bank (lent / loan) us £150,000 and we (repay / repayment) £550 a month.
- 2 I got a (loan / lend) to buy a machine. The (repayments / repaid) for this are £320 per month.
- 3 It (cost / costs) so much to buy new equipment these days.
- 4 We have sales of £200,000 a month. We spend £180,000 on pay, equipment, etc. and try to (save / savings) £20,000 for the future.
- 5 I (borrow / borrowed) £1,000 for a long holiday. Then I won some money, so I (repay / repaid) £500.

26.3 Look at A, B and C opposite. Complete the sentences.

- 1 If you want to buy things at lower prices, you look for and
- 2 If you don't have enough money to buy something, you it.
- 3 If you spend more money than necessary, you money.
- 4 If something costs a lot of money, it is
- 5 If you pay money to live or work in a building owned by someone else, you it.

Over to you

Is your company careful with money? What equipment do you buy? How do you save money on equipment?

28 Company banking

A Accounts

Mr Kim is the finance director for a company in Korea:

'We're with HSBC Bank. We have a cheque account with a cheque book so we can write cheques – printed forms from a bank that you use to pay for things. Our customers pay us directly into our account.

'We also have a deposit account where we can put money for longer periods and earn interest – money the bank pays us.

'The bank sends us statements every month showing us the balance for each account – how much money we have in our accounts.'

Note

BrE: cheque, cheque account, current account
AmE: check, checking account

B Cards

'Each of our salespeople has a company credit card: MasterCard. HSBC is also our credit card company. Each card has a limit of 10 million won (about $8,500) – that's the maximum amount they can spend. They use it to pay for hotels, restaurants and other expenses. They can also use the card to withdraw or take out money from an ATM when they need to pay cash for things – in other words, they can use it as a cash card. But there is a charge – an extra amount that we have to pay – for this.

'We pay off what we owe – need to pay back – every month. We don't want to get into debt /det/ with the credit card company. We don't want to have to pay interest.'

An ATM or a cash machine

Note

ATMs (automatic teller machines) are also called cash machines, especially in BrE.

Note

Withdraw is an irregular verb. The past simple is withdrew and the past participle is withdrawn. The related noun is withdrawal /wɪðˈdrɔːəl/: if you withdraw money, you make a withdrawal.

C Online banking

'We use online banking to access our accounts on the Internet on the HSBC website. We can transfer money between these accounts – we can move money from one account into the other.

'And we can use online banking to see how much our salespeople are spending on their credit cards.'

28.1 Complete the crossword with the correct form of words from A, B and C opposite.

29 Companies and money 1

A 'To sell'

Companies sell things to other companies and to people. These things can be products or services. A business sells a product at or for a particular price.

Asus Kia Boeing Nikon Gap	sells / sell	computers. cars. aircraft. cameras. clothing.
---------------------------------------	--------------	---

Note

Sell is a verb. The past simple is sold and the past participle is also sold. There is no form 'selled'.

Note

You can use the third person singular or the third person plural to talk about companies and what they sell. There is no difference in meaning.

B Sales

You can talk about the products that a company sells as its sales, for example:

computer car aircraft camera clothing	sales
---	-------

Note

formal: clothing /k'ləʊðɪŋ/informal: clothes /k'ləʊðz/

Sales can go up or go down.

You can talk about worldwide sales or sales in a particular country or area, for example European sales.

And you can look at sales figures to see if sales are good or bad – to see if a company has sold a lot or not much.

C Costs

Every company has costs. For example, a company that makes products has:

salary equipment (raw) material /,rɔ: mə'tɪəriəl/ component finance advertising	costs	employees' pay the machines, etc. that it buys metal, wood, plastic, etc. that it buys what it pays suppliers (see Unit 3) for parts interest on loans (see Units 26 and 28) what it spends on advertisements
--	-------	--

You can say that costs are high or low.

29.1 Look at A opposite and use the correct form of the verb 'sell' in brackets to complete the sentences. You can complete some of the sentences in two ways. In these sentences, write both verbs.

- 1 Dell (present simple) computers in shops, not just on the Internet.
- 2 Danone (present perfect) yogurt in the US for 50 years.
- 3 Häagen-Dazs (present simple) ice cream in 120 countries.
- 4 Rolls-Royce probably (future with 'will') aircraft engines worth $14 billion this year.
- 5 Chanel (present simple) products in more than 200 shops around the world.
- 6 Real Madrid said that it (past perfect) one million Beckham shirts at €80 each by the end of that year.

29.2 Look at A opposite again. Match the two parts of these sentences.

- | | |
|---|--|
| 1 Shops are free to sell these products | a the people that they are selling to. |
| 2 Salespeople should know all about | b at the price they want. |
| 3 The New York Times sold | c €210 in France. |
| 4 Amazon sells the iPod Classic for | d its famous building for $525 million. |
| 5 Microsoft is selling | e at $34 per 100 cubic metres. |
| 6 Gazprom sells its gas | f Windows 7 to home users for $119.99. |

29.3 Look at B opposite. What happens to sales of each product in these situations? Look at the example before you begin.

- 1 People want to travel abroad more. Aircraft sales go up.
- 2 Petrol becomes much more expensive.
- 3 Cold weather arrives.
- 4 Cameras become much easier to use.
- 5 Computers become cheaper.

29.4 The Korean car company Hyundai spends money on the following items (1–6). Match the items with the costs in C opposite.

- 1 its website
- 2 paint used on its cars
- 3 paying workers in its factories and offices
- 4 paying banks who have lent the company money
- 5 engines for its cars
- 6 robots – special machines – to make its cars

Over to you

What are the main costs for your company or one you would like to work for?

A Budgets

'I'm Tamsin Liu, finance director for Hong Kong Textiles (HKT). At the beginning of every year, I talk to each manager about what they plan to spend during the year. We set a budget /'bʌdʒɪt/ – decide the amount they can spend. This amount is shown in the budget for each department.

'When managers spend more than we planned, they go over budget. I get very angry if a manager does this and so does the chief executive.

'When managers spend less than planned, they are under budget. But they try not to do this because they know that their budget will be cut – reduced – next year.

'We use budgets to control /kən'trəʊl/ costs – to make sure that the company does not spend too much. This cost control is often one of my most important tasks. I don't want costs to get out of control.'

Note

Budget is also a verb. Managers budget for different things – plan how much to spend on them.

B Sales forecasts

'I'm Henry Bao, sales manager for HKT. One of my jobs is to say how many products we will sell in a particular period. This is a sales forecast.

'Of course, we may sell more than forecast or less than forecast. The numbers of products that we really sell are the actual numbers.'

Note

Forecast is also a verb. The past simple and past participle are forecast or forecasted.

C Results

Here is Tamsin Liu again, talking about results:

'Profit is the money that is left when we take away costs from sales. Of course, we want to make a profit – get more money from sales than we spend on costs. It's good to make a big profit, not a small profit. If we spend more than we get in sales, we make a loss. And if the money from sales is the same as the costs, we break even.

'There is profit before tax – before tax is paid to the government – and profit after tax – after tax is paid.

'The company's results show all these figures.'

Note

You can talk about the profit or profits for a particular period.

30.1 Use correct forms of expressions from A and B opposite to complete these sentences. Look at the example before you begin.

Last year at HKT ...

- 1 the marketing manager planned to spend HK$2 million, but in fact she spent HK$2.3 million: she went over budget.
- 2 the production manager planned to spend $8 million, but in the end he spent $7 million: he was
- 3 as the production manager spent less than planned, his budget for next year will be
- 4 the sales manager expected sales of $20 million: this was his
- 5 in the end, sales were $24 million: these were the
They sold more
- 6 managers planned to spend $15 million altogether, but in the end they spent $19 million: costs got
- 7 the finance director told the other managers that (2 expressions) was very important.

30.2 Look at C opposite. Then look at HKT's results below and decide if the sentences are true (T) or false (F).

	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5	Year 6
Sales	10	15	24	30	27	34
Costs	20	15	19	20	29	29

All figures in millions of Hong Kong dollars.

Tax on profits: 10 per cent. No tax paid if the company breaks even or makes a loss.

- 1 In year 1, HKT made a profit of $10 million.
- 2 In year 2, it broke even.
- 3 In year 3, it made a profit before tax of $4 million.
- 4 In year 4, it paid $1 million in tax.
- 5 In year 5, it made a loss of $2 million.
- 6 In year 6, it made a profit after tax of $4.5 million.

Learner training C: Learning vocabulary

Use a vocabulary notebook to write down new words and expressions. For difficult words, write the phonetic transcription (see Learner training B, page 42) in order to help you remember how to say them.

A Word combinations

You do the exercises in this book. Sometimes, you make mistakes.

Words used together are word combinations. To help you remember word combinations, write in your vocabulary book: do an exercise and make a mistake.

Word combinations show you which words can go before another word and which words can go after it. More examples of word combinations:

noun + noun: sales department / training department / production department (see Unit 2) verb + preposition: I go to work by train. (see Unit 5)

verb + noun:

spend lose waste save	time (see Unit 19)

B Word groups

Write down related words in groups like these:

Word groups	Some words in the group
money	coin, note, currency, exchange rate
time	project, schedule, appointment, diary
workplaces	office, lab, factory, shop, call centre

You can also group grammatically related words with different endings:

training/trainer

lecture/lecturer

employer/employee

A Dimensions

A journalist is talking to an expert on mobile phones about the Nokia N97.

Journalist: What is the Nokia N97 like? What does it do?

Expert: It's a mobile phone, but really it's also a small computer.

Journalist: What are its dimensions?

Expert: It's rectangular. It's 11.7 centimetres long, 5.5 centimetres wide and 1.6 centimetres thick.

Journalist: That's not very thick.

Expert: Yes, it's quite thin.

Journalist: How big is the screen?

Expert: The screen is 3.7 centimetres wide by 8 centimetres long. The diagonal dimension is 8.9 centimetres. But it's more usual to talk about the diagonal dimension in inches – it's 3.5 inches.

Journalist: How much does it weigh /wei/?

Expert: It's not heavy – it doesn't weigh very much. It's very light. In fact, it has a weight /wei/ of only 150 grams.

Note

BrE: millimetre /'mɪli,mɪ:tə/, centimetre /'sentɪ,mɪ:tə/, metre
AmE: millimeter, centimeter, meter

B Features

The expert talks about the features /'fi:tʃəz/ – important points – of the Nokia N97.

Journalist: How fast is the Nokia N97?

Expert: As a computer, it's very fast. It works at very high speeds.

Journalist: What does it do?

Expert: You can use it to access /'ækses/ – use – the Internet. And it has all the usual features: email, phone book, etc.

Journalist: Is it easy to use?

Expert: Yes, very easy. You don't need to read the manual – the book that comes with it.

Note

Access is a verb and a noun. Be careful with its spelling, not 'aeess' or 'aeess'.

31.1 Look at A and B opposite. Complete the tables.

Adjective	Noun

Comparative adjectives

Compare the Nokia N97 with the Apple iPhone.

	Nokia N97	Apple iPhone 3G S
Length	11.7 cm	11.5 cm
Width	5.5 cm	6.2 cm
Thickness	1.6 cm	1.2 cm
Screen (diagonal)	3.5 inches	3.5 inches
Weight	150 grams	135 grams

The N97 is (slightly) longer than the iPhone. The iPhone is shorter than the N97.

The iPhone is wider. The N97 is narrower.

The iPhone isn't as thick as the N97. The N97 is thicker.

The two screens are the same size. One isn't bigger or smaller than the other.

The N97 is heavier. The iPhone is lighter.

Which one is more attractive?

Which one is easier to use?

But which phone is better? Which one is worse?

Perhaps one is as good as the other. And neither is worse!

Note

You use than after comparative adjectives, not 'that'.

Superlative adjectives

Now compare the Palm Pre with the two phones above.

	Palm Pre
Length	10 cm
Width	5.9 cm
Thickness	1.7 cm
Screen (diagonal)	3.1 inches
Weight	135 grams

The Palm Pre is the shortest /'ʃɔ:tɪst/ of the three phones.

The N97 is the longest.

The N97 is the narrowest /'nærəʊɪst/. The iPhone is the widest.

The Palm Pre is the thickest.

The Palm Pre's screen is the smallest.

The N97 is the heaviest.

But which phone is the best? Which one is the worst?

Which one is the most attractive?

Which one is the easiest to use?

A Service characteristics

Here are some ways of describing companies that provide services.

They're	so pretty very really extremely	flexible. reliable /rɪ'laɪəbl/. accurate. efficient. reasonable. safe and secure. convenient /kən'viːniənt/.
---------	---	---

Note

The adverbs very, really and extremely have the same meaning; pretty means 'quite, but not extremely'. You can use all four adverbs with each of these adjectives.

Some people are talking about the service they have received.

They're very flexible. They can change easily depending on what is wanted.

They're extremely reliable. They always do what they say they're going to do.

They're really accurate. They never make mistakes.

They're so efficient. They work without wasting time or energy.

They're very reasonable. Their prices are not expensive.

They're extremely safe and secure. They won't lose our information or let other people have it.

They're pretty convenient. Their offices are in a good location, not far from ours.

B Problems with services

Raj (from 33.4) tells a colleague, Anita, about his trip to Japan.

Anita: Hi Raj. How was your trip?

Raj: A bit of a disaster, because of our brochures. I had them translated into Japanese. The translation company said they would do the translations overnight, but in the end they took three days.

Anita: That's really slow.

Raj: Yes, and inconvenient because I needed the brochures urgently. I found out later that they were using seven different translators for different brochures.

Anita: That's a very inefficient way of doing things.

Raj: Then they emailed the translations to someone in another company by accident. Their systems are pretty insecure and unreliable.

Anita: You're right. They are extremely unsafe.

Raj: And when I got to Japan, my Japanese contacts laughed at the brochures – they were full of mistakes. They were inaccurate – in fact, they were full of inaccuracies.

Anita: So the service overall was not good at all – in fact it was pretty poor. Did the translation company offer any sort of compensation?

Raj: I thought they were unreasonable. They just said they would give a 50 per cent reduction next time. They were very inflexible – they didn't want to offer anything else.

Anita: But I guess there won't be a next time.

Raj: That's for sure.

Note

Reasonable means 'not expensive', but unreasonable means 'not fair or acceptable'.

The past participle is used in passive forms of verbs. The passive is often used to talk about processes.

Note

When a past simple or past participle -ed ending follows t or d, it is pronounced /ɪd/, for example loaded: /'ləʊdɪd/.

See page 142 for the passive forms of irregular verbs.

B Industries and their processes

1 Farmers grow a crop, such as wheat.

- They pick or harvest the crop manually or by machine.
- Food producers process the wheat and use it to make bread and other products.

3 Miners extract ore, such as iron ore.

- They mine the ore from or from under the ground, usually by machine.
- Steel producers use iron ore to make steel.
- Manufacturers shape the metal to make components – parts.

2 Wood producers grow trees, such as pine.

- They cut them down.
- They treat the wood with chemicals.
- Furniture makers cut and shape the wood to make furniture.

4 Car manufacturers assemble components.

- They put them together, for example to make car engines.
- They install the engines in cars.

Note

Install is also spelled instal in BrE, but the past tense and past participle are always spelled installed.

A Stages in the process 1

Coffee is grown in countries like Brazil, Colombia and Vietnam – these countries are some of the main producers. Coffee berries are the raw material for making coffee. Coffee is processed like this:

1	picking	First, coffee berries are picked or harvested manually.
2	sorting	Then, they are sorted – put into groups – by colour.
3	removal of outside	Next, the outside of the berry is removed , usually by machine.
4	soaking	After that, the beans are soaked in water to remove another layer of material on the bean that is not wanted.
5	washing	The beans are then washed with large quantities of water.
6	drying	Finally, the seeds are dried on special tables, or on the floor or in special machines.

B Stages in the process 2

The next step in the process is the roasting of the green coffee.

The coffee is usually roasted by the supplier. The actual roasting begins when the temperature inside the bean reaches 200 degrees C. The weight of the beans is reduced during roasting – there is a reduction in weight. Roasting changes the flavour of the beans – they taste different.

The roasted beans are labelled as light, medium light, medium, medium dark, dark or very dark.

Lightness and darkness is measured with a special device – machine.

The coffee is put into sacks. The sacks are loaded onto ships and shipped all round the world.

Note

BrE: labelled, labelling; AmE: labeled, labeling
BrE: flavour; AmE: flavor

C Stages in the process 3

The sacks are unloaded and stored in warehouses.

The beans are then packaged.

Most coffee in shops is already ground. Ground coffee is the finished product.

Packets of coffee are sold in supermarkets and other shops. They are bought /bɔ:t/ by customers all over the world.

A Faults

Antonia is having problems with her DVD player. She phones the call centre of the chain store where she bought it.

Assistant: Service department. How can I help?

Antonia: I have a problem with my DVD player. It stopped working last week.

Assistant: What make and model number is it?

Antonia: It's a Ruby DVD 7000.

Assistant: What exactly is the fault /fɒlt/ – what's the technical problem?

Antonia: When I press the button, the tray doesn't open.

Assistant: How old is the DVD player?

Antonia: I bought it six months ago.

Assistant: OK, Ruby guarantee their products for two years. You can send it back by post for repair.

Antonia: That's difficult. I don't have the box.

Assistant: Don't worry. You can take it back to the shop. Where did you buy it?

B Guarantees

The company repaired the DVD player and returned it to Antonia, but it has stopped working again. She phones the centre again.

Assistant: Service department. How can I help?

Antonia: My DVD player broke down last month. You repaired it, but it stopped working again yesterday.

Assistant: What's the fault now?

Antonia: I can play DVDs, but I can't record.

Assistant: Is it still under guarantee?

Antonia: Yes, I only bought it last year.

Assistant: OK. Because it's happened again, we'll give you a brand new one as a replacement.

Antonia: That's great.

Talk about a problem you had with a product. Did you a) send the product back for repair, or b) get a replacement product? What happened exactly?

What can go wrong?

You want to purchase – buy – office supplies – products for your office – from a supplier. You do this by sending a purchase order – a document with details of the order – to the supplier.

These things can go wrong:

- The company loses the order.
- The company supplies the goods. It ships the goods, but they are delivered – sent – to the wrong place.
- The goods are delivered to the right place, but they are delivered late.
- The wrong goods are delivered. They are not the ones that you ordered.
- On delivery, you see that some of the goods are damaged – harmed or broken. Perhaps this happened when they were shipped.
- Other products do not work properly – correctly – because they are faulty – they have faults.
- The supplier's invoice – a document giving information about the goods that you have purchased – is wrong. There are mistakes in the invoice details – the quantities and/or prices are wrong. Perhaps the suppliers want to charge too much – they say the price is more than it really is. If this happens, they should refund – pay back – the difference.

Note

Purchase is more formal and less frequent than buy.

Keeping customers happy

You work at the supplier's. In order to keep customers happy in different situations, you could:

- apologize – say that you're sorry.
- give/offer a reduction or discount – lower price – for the next order. The price will be reduced or discounted.
- send a truck to pick up the goods and deliver them to the right place.
- take back the wrong products and send the correct products.
- give or offer a reduction or discount for this order.
- replace the faulty products.
- repair the faulty products.
- send another invoice.

Learner training D: Using dictionaries

A What dictionaries do I need?

You should use two dictionaries: a good bilingual dictionary – in English and your own language – and a good English–English dictionary, like the Cambridge Learner's Dictionary.

A bilingual dictionary can be easier to understand, but an English–English dictionary can give you more information about a word or phrase. It's good to work in English as much as possible.

You can use the CD-ROM versions of these dictionaries, or look up – find – words on the Internet.

And, of course, there are more and more small electronic handheld dictionaries and dictionary applications for devices such as the iPhone.

B What information does a dictionary give?

Each entry gives you a lot of different information.

Pronunciation symbols show the pronunciation – the way that you say a word.

Grammar labels show that the word is a noun, verb, adjective, adverb, etc. Sometimes a word can have two different grammatical forms, e.g. noun and verb. Sometimes one grammatical form can have more than one meaning.

invoice¹ /'ɪnvɔɪs/ noun [C] a list that shows you how much you owe someone for work they have done or for goods they have supplied We'll send another invoice.

invoice² /'ɪnvɔɪs/ verb [T] to send someone an invoice

Many dictionaries indicate whether a verb is transitive [T] or intransitive [I]. This entry shows no past form for the verb, so this verb is regular. Entries also show whether a noun is countable [C] or uncountable [U]. If the noun is countable and has an irregular plural, this is also shown.

Example phrases or sentences show how the word is used.

Some entries give common word combinations, and expressions and words with the opposite meaning. Many dictionaries show the most important words to learn (in the Cambridge Learner's Dictionary these are blue and have a ox symbol), but remember that some other words are also important for you because they are business words.

C How should I use my dictionary?

Here are some ideas to help you.

- Many words have more than one meaning. The first meaning is not always the one that you want. Look at all the different meanings.
- When you look up a word, put a ✓ next to it on the page in this book and in the dictionary. When you go back to the page later and see the ✓, check that you remember the word without looking at the meaning.
- If you see an unknown word in a text, continue to read. Use the context – the words around the unknown word – to try and work out its meaning. If you are still unsure, then use your dictionary to check its meaning.

D What can I read?

You can see how English is used in context. Look at the following:

- business sections of general newspapers and their websites: independent.co.uk, guardian.co.uk, telegraph.co.uk, timesonline.co.uk, global.nytimes.com
- business websites: ft.com, businessweek.com, money.cnn.com/magazines/fortune/

D1 Look at the entry for 'business'.

◦ business /'biznis/ noun 1 TRADE [U] the buying and selling of goods or services The shop closed last year, but now they're back in business. ◦ We do a lot of business with China. ◦ *His company has gone out of business (= failed). 2 ORGANIZATION [C] an organization that sells goods or services My uncle runs a small decorating business. 3 WORK [U] work that you do to earn money *She's in Vienna on business (= working). 4 a nasty/strange, etc. business an unpleasant/strange, etc.

situation 5 be sb's (own) business to be something private that other people do not need to know What he does in his own home is his business. 6 be none of sb's business If something is none of someone's business, they do not need to know about it, although they want to, because it does not affect them. 7 mind your own business used to tell someone in a rude way that you do not want them to ask about something private ⇨ See also: big business, show business

- 1 Is it a noun, a verb, or an adjective?
- 2 How many meanings does it have?
- 3 What other entries are there either at the end of the entry, or after it, that contain the word 'business'?

D2 Look at the entries relating to the words below and answer the questions.

◦ cost² /kɒst/ verb past cost 1 MONEY [T] If something costs a particular amount of money, you have to pay that in order to buy or do it. How much do these shoes cost? ◦ [+ to do sth] It costs $5 to send the package by airmail. ◦ [+ two objects] It's going to cost me a lot of money to buy a new car. 2 LOSE [+ two objects] to make someone lose something His lazy attitude cost him his job.

◦ increase¹ /ɪn'kri:s/ verb [I, T] to get bigger or to make something bigger in size or amount Eating fatty food increases the risk of heart disease. ◦ Exports of computers have increased by 15% since January. ◦ increased demand/competition ◦ Her anxieties are shared by an increasing number of women. ⇨ Opposite decrease

◦ including /ɪn'klu:dɪŋ/ preposition used to show that someone or something is part of a larger group, amount, or process Fourteen people, including a prison warden, were killed. ◦ It's £24.99, including postage and packing.

- 1 Is the verb 'cost' regular or irregular?
- 2 What example sentences are there for 'including'?
- 3 Use the structure from one of the examples for 'including' to write a sentence with these words: 'office supplies – €12 – VAT'.
- 4 What is the second example for 'increase' as a verb? Use the same structure to talk about an increase of 10 per cent for mobile phones.

D3 Look up these words from 41.1. Use an English–English dictionary, like the Cambridge Learner's Dictionary.

invoice	order	supply	discount	ship
deliver	damage	replacement	reduce	refund
delivery	purchase	replace	shipping

- 1 Put the words in alphabetical order.
- 2 What is the number of the meaning for 'order' (noun) as it is used in Unit 41?
- 3 What is the plural of 'supply' (noun)?
- 4 What are the different meanings for 'purchase' when used as a verb and a noun?

Over to you

You are at a restaurant with a visitor to your country. Write a conversation between yourself and the visitor.

Socializing 3: networking

A Business or pleasure?

Rebecca and Kate are at the golf club.

- Kate: Thanks for the game. It was great.
 Rebecca: I enjoyed it too. Hi, Charlene, how are you? I haven't seen you for some time!
 Charlene: Rebecca, hi. I'm fine, thanks.
 Rebecca: Charlene, this is Kate. She's here from England.
 Charlene: Hello, Kate.
 Kate: Nice to meet you, Charlene.
 Charlene: Are you here for business or pleasure?
 Kate: Business, actually. I'm in the travel business, like Rebecca.
 Rebecca: I have to get back to the office. I'll see you later, Kate. Bye, Charlene.
 Kate: Bye. See you later.
 Charlene: Bye.

B Here's my card

- Charlene: Have you been to Botswana before?
 Kate: No, this is my first time. The weather's better than in London, that's for sure.
 Charlene: Yes, spring is a nice time of year here. What do you do?
 Kate: Our company sells African adventure trips. I wanted to see things for myself – the country, the hotels ...
 Charlene: That's interesting. I'm in the hotel business. My company owns ten hotels in Botswana and South Africa.
 Kate: Really?
 Charlene: Here's my business card.
 Kate: And here's mine. Perhaps we can do business together. It's great to have the chance to do some networking like this!
 Charlene: Yes, I'm sure there are some great opportunities for us to work together.

For more on business cards, see Unit 14.

C Saying the right thing

Asking the right questions and giving the right sort of answer are important.

a What was summer like this year here?

Pretty wet – not really beach weather!

b Do you have children?

c How's business?

d Do you play tennis?

e Do you come here often?

44.1 Match the two parts of these exchanges.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1 Thanks for the game. | a No problem. Do you have any questions? |
| 2 Thank you for the meal. | b It's nice to get out of the office to a café sometimes. |
| 3 Thanks for the coffee. | c It was great, but you play better than me. |
| 4 Thank you very much for your presentation. | d I'm glad you liked it. The food here is always good. |

44.2 Look at A opposite. Put this conversation into the correct order. Look at the examples before you begin.

6	7	8	9	10 h

- a Bunzo: Bye. See you later.
 b Bunzo: I'm fine thanks.
 c Bunzo: Nice to meet you. Are you here for business or pleasure?
 d Carlos: Bunzo, this is Graciela. She's here from Brazil.
 e Carlos: I have to get back to the office. I'll see you later, Graciela. Bye, Bunzo.
 f Carlos: My pleasure. I enjoyed it too. ... Hi, Bunzo, how are you? I haven't seen you for some time!
 g Graciela: Business, actually. I'm in the oil business, like Carlos.
 h Graciela: Bye.
 i Graciela: Hello, Bunzo.
 j Graciela: Thanks for the meal, Carlos. It was delicious.

44.3 Look at B opposite. Choose the appropriate response (a or b) in each of the exchanges (1–5).

- | | |
|---|--|
| 1 Have you been here before? | a No, and I don't want to come back.
b Yes, I was here about 20 years ago when I was a student. It's changed a lot! |
| 2 The weather's better here than at home. | a Yes, the summers here are very nice, not too hot.
b Yes, the weather here is much better than anywhere else in the world. |
| 3 What do you do? | a I'm in the construction business.
b Why do you want to know? |
| 4 I'm in the advertising business. | a I know nothing about advertising.
b That's interesting. |
| 5 Perhaps we can do business together. | a I'm sure there are some opportunities to work together.
b I don't think so. |

44.4 Relate the questions in C opposite to these subjects.

- | | | |
|-----------|----------------------------------|--------------|
| 1 Family | 3 The person's company | 5 Spare time |
| 2 Weather | 4 The place where the people are | |

Over to you

Charlene and Kate talk about the weather. Which of these subjects is it acceptable to talk about when you meet someone: a) for the first time, and b) when you know them better?

- politics
- the economic and business situation in general
- your families

Telephoning 1: starting and ending

A Starting informal calls

Hello.

Speaking.

Hello, Miguel.
How are you?

Is that Jessica? / Is Jessica there?

Hi Jessica, it's Miguel here.

Note

Speaking means 'Yes, it's me!' You can't say 'It's me' or 'That's me' when someone asks for you on the phone.

B Starting formal calls

Good morning. Yamada Hanako's office.

Hello.

Could Can

I speak to

Ms Hanako, please?

Who's calling, please?

My name's John Wang. I'm calling from JW Consultants in Hong Kong.

I'll put you through.
One moment, please.

Note

Ms is used instead of Miss or Mrs for a woman when you don't know if she is married. Mr is used for all men.

Thank you.

Good morning, Ms
Hanako. My name's ...

Yamada Hanako
(speaking).

C Ending calls

I'll phone
call you again next week.

Good
Nice to talk to you.

Thanks
Thank you for calling.

(5)

Over to you

- When you answer the phone at work, what do you say?
- Write the beginning of a phone conversation at work: a) with someone you know, and b) with someone you don't know. Write two short dialogues.

Telephoning 2: spelling and numbers

A Telephone alphabet

When spelling a word on the phone, it can be difficult to hear the difference between these letters:

- B and P ■ B and V ■ D and T ■ F and S ■ I and Y ■ M and N

Make sure you learn the English names for these letters:

- A and R ■ E and I ■ O and U ■ I and Y ■ C and S ■ G and J
- K and Q ■ V and W

This list shows you:

- how to say the names of the letters.
- the telephone alphabet.

If you want to spell a word, you can say A for Alpha, B for Bravo, etc.

A /eɪ/ Alpha	H /ertʃ/ Hotel	O /əʊ/ Oscar	V /vi:/ Victor
B /bi:/ Bravo	I /aɪ/ India	P /pi:/ Papa	W /'dʌblju:/ Whiskey
C /si:/ Charlie	J /dʒeɪ/ Juliet	Q /kju:/ Quebec	X /eks/ X-ray
D /di:/ Delta	K /keɪ/ Kilo	R /ɑ:/ Romeo	Y /waɪ/ Yankee
E /i:/ Echo	L /el/ Lima	S /es/ Sierra	Z BrE: /zed/ AmE: /zi:/ Zulu
F /ef/ Foxtrot	M /em/ Mike	T /ti:/ Tango
G /dʒi:/ Golf	N /en/ November	U /ju:/ Uniform

B Spelling

Who's calling, please?

My name's Anil Singh.

Can you spell your surname, please?

Yes, it's Singh: S for Sierra, I for India, N for November, G for Golf, H for Hotel.
I'm calling from Dillon Gupta, in Mumbai.

Is that one L or two?

Two. D for Delta, I-double L
-O-N; new word, Gupta.

Sorry, but how do you spell Gupta?

G-U-P-T-A.

C Numbers

When you say telephone numbers, your voice goes up for each group – except for the last group, when your voice goes down.

00 ↗ Double oh (BrE)	44 ↗ double four	20 ↗ two oh	9422 ↗ nine four double two	5483 ↘ five four eight three
00 ↗ Zero zero (AmE)	1 ↗ one	212 ↗ two one two	131 ↗ one three one	6544 ↘ six five four four

- 46.1 Look at A opposite. You are talking on the phone about these numbers and letters. Correct the other person.

Is that V for Victor?
No, B for Bravo.

Is that T for Tango?

2

Is that N for November?

Is that F for Foxtrot?

MA005FB/A iPod nano 4G
Designed by Apple in California
Assembled in China Model No. A1

- 46.2 Look at this telephone list for a company's staff around the world.

- a Spell the names. Use the telephone alphabet in A opposite.
b Use arrows as in C opposite to show how your voice goes up and down when saying the telephone numbers.

1 Mr Caire 00 33 1 9422 5122

5 Doctor Tanawa 00 81 42 975 2349

6 Ms Dos Santos 00 55 61 648 7785

- 46.3 Look at B opposite. Match the expressions with the answers.

- | | |
|---------------------------------------|---|
| 1 Who's calling, please? | a No, C-O-double L-I-N-S. |
| 2 Can you spell that, please? | b John Collins and Associates. |
| 3 Which company are you phoning from? | c T for Tango, A for Alpha, N for November, Y for Yankee, A for Alpha; new word, H for Hotel, U for Uniform, double L for Lima. |
| 4 Is that C-O-L-I-N-S? | d Tanya Hull. |

Over to you

- Spell your name, your home address and your company address. Use the telephone alphabet.
- What are your phone numbers – at home, at work and on your mobile? Remember to say them with the correct intonation.

Telephoning 3: checking information

A Showing understanding

I'm phoning from AIE in Dubai.

Could you ask Lia to email the details?

It's very important.

Right.

OK. I'll do that.

I understand.

B Checking and confirming information

Person who answers

(I think) you've got the wrong number. What number did you want?

This is / My number's 973 5598.

That's alright.

Goodbye.

B Wrong department

I'm phoning about a television that I bought on your website. It's stopped working, but it's still under guarantee.

OK.

Thank you.

You've come through to the wrong department. This is the sales department. You want after-sales service.

I'll try to put you through.

After-sales department. How can I help you?

C Wrong person

Caller

Hello. Can I speak to Serena Jones in the advertising department, please?

Is that Serena Jones?

Thank you.

Receptionist

I'll put you through.

Hello.

No, this is Sarah Jones. You've got the wrong extension. I'll try to put you through to the right one.

Sarah Jones tries to put the caller through to the right extension, but the line goes dead. The caller is cut off. So, he phones again and, this time, he gets through to Serena Jones.

49.1 Look at A opposite. Correct five mistakes in this conversation.

A: 1 Can I speak through Terry Connolly, please?

B: 2 You've get the wrong number. What number do you want?

A: 4955 2381.

B: 3 This was 4955 2318.

A: 4 I'm excused.

B: 5 That's correct.

49.2 Look at B opposite. You make four calls from your company. Write two lines of dialogue for each of the situations (1–4). Look at the example before you begin.

	Organization that you call and the reason for your call	1st department	2nd department

B Formal and informal

If you know someone well, you use an informal style. If you don't know the person or the communication is very serious or official, you use a formal style. You need to think about the level of formality when you begin writing.

C Beginning emails and texts

Writing an email to one person

More formal	Dear Mr Quinn	Dear Jim	Hello Jim	Less formal
	Dear Ms Dee, Dear Mrs Dee	Dear Ann	Hello Ann
			Hi Jim
			Hi Ann

If you know someone very well, you can just use Hello and Hi without the person's name, or you can use just the person's name without Hello or Hi.

Writing an email to several people

More formal	Dear all	Hello, everyone	Less formal
			Hi, everyone

Writing to an email address without a person's name

When writing to an address such as 'info@adventuretravel.co.uk' or 'humanresources@havajet.com' you can write:

More formal	Dear Sir or Madam	Less formal
		Hello

Or, you can just start the email with no expression at the beginning.

Texts are informal. You usually just start with no expression at the beginning, or just Hi and/or the person's name.

See Unit 47 for how to say email addresses.

- 50.1 Look at A opposite. Choose the correct form of the right verb to complete these sentences.
- 1 I've (write / send) five faxes this morning, but I haven't sent them yet.
 - 2 I (reply / receive) her letter yesterday.
 - 3 There's no need to (read / reply) to this email.
 - 4 I (get / post) this email from Rebecca.
 - 5 I've (write / read) your text, but I haven't (reply / send) to it yet.
 - 6 I'll (fax / reply) the information to her.
 - 7 He (text / receive) me to say he was on the train.
- 50.2 Look at B opposite. Kay Lumsden receives these emails and texts. Are they formal or informal? Look at the example before you begin.
- 1 A journalist who has never met Kay writes to ask her for an interview. formal
 - 2 A colleague texts Kay to ask if she's free for lunch.
 - 3 A supplier that Kay doesn't know writes to ask her for a meeting.
 - 4 A friend emails Kay and asks if she's free for a game of tennis.
 - 5 Someone that Kay doesn't know writes her an email to ask for a job.
 - 6 A customer who has spoken to Kay once on the phone sends her an email asking for information about a product.
- 50.3 Look at B and C opposite. Write the beginning of each message in 50.2 above. If there is no beginning, just write '-'. Look at the example before you begin.

Dear Mr Takeshita

It was a (1) to meet you in Seoul last month to discuss the idea of working together with your company. We really liked your products. We have looked at the figures in more detail and we have decided that (2) it would be difficult to sell your company's products here in South Korea. I am (3) to (4) that we (5) agree to your proposals and we are (6) to continue our discussions.

However, I hope we may be able to do business together in the future.

(7) regards

Rae Woo

52.2 Use correct forms of expressions from A and B opposite to complete this email.

Dear Rebecca

It was very (1) (2) (2 expressions) you in Botswana last week. Thanks also for a great game of golf.

I have discussed your proposals with my colleagues, and (3) (2 expressions) to say that we have decided to (4) and look at them in more detail.

We would like to discuss your ideas for holidays in Botswana for UK customers starting next year. I'm attaching a spreadsheet with some figures – possible prices, numbers of customers, etc.

Also attached is some information about Adventure Travel. Please (5) to ask if you need any more information about the company.

Looking forward to (6) from you and to (7) business with you.

Yours sincerely

Kate Thomas

Dear Rebecca

Our agreement

It was very nice seeing you in London. Thank you for flying over so that we could discuss the details of our agreement on travel by our clients to Botswana. I think we covered¹ all the points that we needed to talk about in order to reach a deal². I have asked our lawyers to draw up³ a contract for an agreement between our two companies. (Sorry that there was no time for a game of golf!)

Please find enclosed two copies of the contract. Please could you sign one copy and send it back to me by courier? Many thanks.

As agreed, the first clients will be travelling to Botswana the year after next, so we must now work on the details of the tours that they will go on.

If this agreement is successful, we look forward to doing more business with you.

Yours sincerely,

Presentations 1: getting started

Preparation

Naomi Usk is an expert in presentation skills. She gives this advice for presentations:

- Start to prepare – get ready – early.
- Think about your audience – the people who will be at your presentation.
- Write notes. Prepare slides, for example by using Microsoft PowerPoint.
- Prepare handouts – pages with information for the audience.
- Check the room – make sure the room is ready. Is there a microphone / a projector / a flipchart / a whiteboard? Is there an interactive whiteboard – a whiteboard connected to a computer, which the presenter controls using their finger or a special pen?

This line graph shows how figures/quantities/sales rose, stayed the same and fell.

This bar graph or bar chart shows sales of Ruby phones from January to June last year.

In January last year, Ruby sold 50,000 phones. In February, sales increased to 175,000. Sales in March decreased from 175,000 to 100,000 units. In April, sales went up by 200,000 units to 300,000 units and in May they remained steady. Then in June, sales went up by 250,000 units to 550,000 units.

- 56.1 Look at A opposite. Complete and label the pie chart using the information below.

Hybrid (petrol plus battery) cars sold in the US last year
Model	Percentage
Prius	60%
Camry	15%
Civic	11%
Highlander	7.5%
Escape	6.5%
Total	100%

Now write a sentence about one of the segments.

Describe the exports of a particular product from your country and the percentages exported to different places.

Presentations 4: comparing trends

A Graphs

This line graph shows world production of diamonds over the last fifteen years in Australia and Russia. Production is measured in carats. Fifteen years ago, Australia produced nearly 20 million carats, but production there has fallen steeply to less than 1 million carats this year. Production in Russia rose steadily for the first nine years, from 9 million carats to 12 million. It has increased dramatically since then, to reach 23 million carats today.

B 'Less', 'more' and 'the same'

Production	is has been was	(much) (slightly) (about)	less more the same	in X	than as	in Y.
------------	-----------------------	---------------------------------	--------------------------	------	------------	-------

Note You don't say 'more that', 'less that' or 'the same than'.

C Adjective and noun combinations

There was a There has been a	fast steep dramatic rapid	rise. increase.
	slow gradual slight small	fall. decrease.

D Comparative adverbs

Adjective	Adverb	Comparative adverb
fast	fast	faster
slow	slowly	more slowly
gradual	gradually	more gradually

For comparative adjectives, see Unit 32.

57.1 Look at A opposite. Are these sentences true or false? Correct the false sentences.

- 1 The diagram is a bar chart.
- 2 It compares oil production in two countries.
- 3 Diamond production is measured in tons.
- 4 Diamond production in Australia was higher than in Russia 15 years ago, but today it is much lower.
- 5 Australian diamond production has fallen steadily and continuously for 15 years.
- 6 Russian production has risen fast over the whole period.

57.2 Look at B opposite. Correct the mistakes in these sentences.

- 1 Sales at General Motors last year were about the same than at Ford.
- 2 Sales at both companies were much least at the previous year's.
- 3 Both companies made a loss, but GM's loss was much bigger as Ford's.
- 4 The loss at Ford was much more big as the previous year's.
- 5 There are slightly more employees at GM that at Ford.

57.3 Look at C and D opposite. Then look at this information about Fabco. (We are at the end of year 3.) Are the sentences true or false?

		Year 1	Year 2	Year 3
1	Number of employees	48	65	130
2	Production	3,011 units	10,329 units	10,666 units
3	Sales	$497 million	$880 million	$912 million
4	Profits	$89 million	$90 million	$122 million
5	Taxes paid	$15 million	$22 million	$9 million

- 1 The number of employees rose dramatically this year – more dramatically than before.
- 2 Production rose rapidly this year in relation to last year.
- 3 Sales have gone up this year, but more slowly than in the previous year.
- 4 Profits increased faster this year than last year – in fact they only rose slightly between years 1 and 2.
- 5 There was a steep increase in taxes from year 1 to year 2, but a dramatic fall in year 3. (We changed our accountants!)

Over to you

Find the profit figures for two companies for the past five years. Write six statements comparing them, using language from this unit.

A Company sites

At Ruby's main – most important – site you can find:

- the reception area – where visitors arrive
- the offices – where people work on managing, planning, etc.
- the factory or manufacturing plant – where products are made
- the R&D (research and development) department – where people work on new ideas, products, etc.
- the training department – where employees learn how to do their work

B Introduction to the tour

Guide: Good morning, ladies and gentlemen, and welcome to Ruby. Today, we're going to see some of the departments on this site. We'll start here in the reception area, then I'll show you the main departments and finally we'll look at the production area. I'm afraid we don't allow photography during the tour.

C Guided tour

Guide: Let's now leave the reception area and move on to the offices. Come this way, please.

Here on the left you can see the marketing department and on the right, the finance department. This is our finance director, Cara Long.

Cara Long: Hello, everyone.

Guide: Follow me and let's go into the manufacturing plant. This is where we make our mobile phones. We make a million phones a year in this plant.

Right, let's continue now to the research and development department. I'm afraid this area is restricted – closed to the public. But as you can see through the window, we're testing new designs for our phones.

Now, finally, we can have a look at the training department. This is where we do all the company training. In this room, you can see some of our managers from the finance department on a course in advanced finance. Can I ask you to keep your voices down – speak quietly – in this area?

58.1 Look at A opposite. Match the places (1–5) with what the guide says (a–e) during the guided tour of a company.

|---------------------------|---|
| 1 the factory | a We work on new ideas for our products here. |
| 2 the offices | b This is where people learn how to do their job. |
| 3 the training department | c This is where we make the products. |
| 4 the reception area | d This is where our managers work. |
| 5 the R&D department | e We welcome company visitors here. |

58.2 Look at B and C opposite. You are the guide on a company site tour. What do you say in these situations?

1 Ask your visitors to speak more quietly.

2 Tell them to follow you into the finance department.

3 Say that they cannot take photos.

4 Tell them that some of the company's machines are on the left.

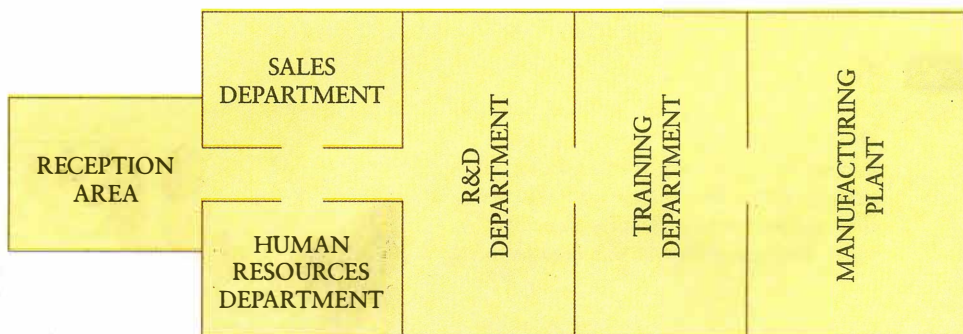

5 Explain that they cannot go into room 101.

58.3 Look at B opposite and the plan below. Complete the site tour commentary.

We'll start here in the reception area. Can I ask you to keep your voices (1) in this area? Let's now leave the reception area and (2) on to the offices. Come this (3), please. Here on the (4), you can see the sales department and on the (5), the human resources department.

Let's (6) now to the R&D department. This is where we design new computers. We can now have a (7) at the training department. This is where we do all the company training, including English classes for our employees.

I'm sorry, but we can't go into the manufacturing plant. It's (8) and closed to the public. Are there any questions?

Over to you

Write the beginning of a guided tour of your site. Welcome the people to the company and name the places you are going to visit. Then write what you say when you take them to the first place.

Meetings 1: organizing a meeting

A Word combinations with 'meeting'

arrange	a meeting	organize a meeting chair		be in charge of a meeting attend		go to a meeting
miss		not go to a meeting postpone		change a meeting to a later time
cancel		not have a planned meeting

B Agendas

Here is an agenda. An agenda is a list of items or points – different things – to talk about at a meeting. It begins with the date and the venue – the place where the meeting will be.

Before the meeting, someone sends out the agenda.

If you cannot attend a meeting, you send your apologies – a message to say that you cannot be there. At the beginning, someone reads out these messages.

The minutes of a meeting are written notes of what is said and decided in the meeting. During the meeting, someone takes the minutes – writes down what is said and decided. After the meeting, someone sends out the minutes – sends copies to everyone.

The last item on the agenda is usually AOB (any other business) – other things that people want to talk about.

AGENDA

Staff meeting, 25 January

Venue: Meeting room 3

Apologies for absence

Minutes of the last meeting

- 1 Car parking
- 2 Company restaurant
- 3 Holiday dates
- 4 AOB

C Types of meeting

Most meetings occur face-to-face, with the chair – the person in charge – and the participants all in the same room. But there are also virtual meetings, with participants in different locations – places – connected by video link in a system of videoconferencing.

59.1 Look at A opposite. Choose the correct verb to complete these sentences.

- 1 She (missed / arranged) the meeting because she was late for work.
- 2 I decided to (cancel / arrange) the meeting because there was nothing to talk about.
- 3 We can (postpone / cancel) the meeting until next week if necessary.
- 4 I asked Jean to (arrange / miss) the meeting next week, but there were no rooms available.
- 5 They (attended / postponed) the meeting, but they didn't hear anything interesting.
- 6 This meeting is very important. Don't (miss / attend) it!

59.2 Look at A and B opposite. Complete this memo with expressions from the box.

agenda attend items minutes venue

MEMO

From: Chief Executive To: All managers

Please find enclosed the (1) for next week's meeting. Please make a note of the (2) : we are meeting in room 7. Please let me know if you are unable to (3)

Please find attached a copy of the (4) from the last meeting.

If you want me to add other (5) to the agenda, please let me know.

59.3 Look at A and B. Match these verbs and nouns. Then match the expressions with their meanings.

attend send send out take your apologies the minutes the agenda a meeting

- 1 make the formal record of a meeting
- 2 say that you will not be able to come to a meeting
- 3 go to a meeting
- 4 give people a list of things to talk about at a meeting

59.4 Complete this text with correct forms of expressions from C opposite. Use some expressions more than once.

In our company, top managers based in different (1) no longer fly to (2) meetings with each other. Modern (3) systems give you the feeling that the other participants are in the same room with you. Of course, the chair can be in any (4) too. Meetings using a (5) mean that managers don't have to spend hours on international flights, and these (6) meetings are much cheaper and easier to organize.

Over to you

Write the agenda for a meeting in your organization. Show the date, the venue and the items to talk about.

Meetings 2: chairing a meeting

A Chairing

The chairman, chairwoman or chair – the person in charge of the meeting – opens, runs – manages – and closes the meeting.

Opening the meeting

Is everybody ready? Let's make a start.

James and Chris send their apologies.

Does everyone agree with the minutes of the last meeting?

Running the meeting

So, the first item is the company car park.

Let's move on to the next item: the company restaurant.

B Interruptions and how to stop them

Interrupting

Can	I	say something	here?
	Isabella	come in

Can I say something here about the cost of all this?

Stopping interruptions

Just a moment.	I haven't finished ...
	Can I just finish?
	Let him/her finish.

Just a moment. I haven't finished talking about the plans.

60.1 Look at A and B opposite. Some of these sentences are incorrect. Correct the sentences where necessary.

- 1 Let's make to start.
- 2 Joanna sends her apologize.
- 3 Does everyone agree the minutes of the last meeting?
- 4 The first point is holiday dates.
- 5 Let's move in to the next item.
- 6 Pia, can you to say something here?
- 7 Just a moment. Can I just finish what I was saying?
- 8 Just a moment. Let Roberto to finish.

60.2 You are chairing a meeting. What do you say in these situations?

- 1 You want Val to let Yvonne speak.
- 2 You want Val to let Yvonne finish.
- 3 You start the meeting.
- 4 You say that Tanya and Stefan are sorry that they cannot attend.
- 5 You ask if everyone agrees with the minutes of the last meeting.
- 6 You introduce the first item – the company's new restaurant.

Over to you

Think about a recent meeting you attended. Write down what the chair said to open, run and close the meeting. Use some of the expressions in this unit and in Unit 59.

Meetings 3: opinions and suggestions

A Opinions, agreeing and disagreeing

An opinion is what a person thinks about an idea or subject. If you have the same opinion as another person, you agree. If you have a different opinion, you disagree.

Asking for opinions

What do you think	about ... ?
What's your opinion	of ... ?

Giving opinions

I think ...
In my opinion ...

Agreeing

I agree.
Exactly.
That's right.
I agree with Peter about that.

Disagreeing

I don't agree.
I'm afraid I disagree.
Yes, but ...

- Nadia: What's your opinion of the service in the company restaurant?
- Olivier: In my opinion, it's very bad!
- Pierre: I agree. It's so slow.
- Quentin: I'm afraid I disagree. I think it's quite good.

Note

You say I agree with ...
You don't say 'I am agree with ...'.

B Suggesting and explaining

If you make a suggestion, you tell people about an idea or plan for them to think about.

Making suggestions

How about ... ?

What about ... ?

Why don't we ... ?

I have an idea. Let's ...

Responding

That's a good idea.

Asking for explanation

Sorry, I don't understand. Do you mean that ... ?

Are you saying that ... ?

- Nadia: I disagree with Quentin about this. We need to find new people to work in the restaurant.
- Olivier: Can I come in here? I have an idea. Let's use a company from outside.
- Pierre: Sorry, I don't understand. Do you mean that the people working in the restaurant should not be employees of our company?
- Olivier: That's right. The restaurant company can be completely independent.
- Reina: That's a good idea.
- Quentin: I'm afraid I disagree. We'll lose control of the restaurant.

61.1 Look at A and B opposite. Complete this conversation by putting the phrases (a–g) in the correct places (1–7).

- a I have another idea.
- b I disagree with Ben
- c That's a good idea!
- d Yes, but
- e Do you mean
- f That's right.
- g What do you think

Anna: So, who's the best person for the job? (1) _____, Ben?

Ben: Lea Smith is very good. She has a lot of experience.

Charlene: (2) _____ about this. Malcolm Jones may be younger, but he has a lot of experience.

Ben: (3) _____ Lea can start work next week. Malcolm can only start next month.

Dan: Can I come in here? (4) _____ We can give them both a job as a sort of test for six months.

Ella: (5) _____ keep them both for six months and then give one of them the permanent job?

Dan: (6) _____

Anna: (7) _____ I hadn't thought of that.

61.2 Look at A and B opposite. Colleagues at Newcorp are talking about a new supplier, Partco. Put these expressions in the order they are used at a meeting.

1 _____ 2 _____ 3 _____ 4 _____ 5 _____ 6 _____ 7 _____

a I have an idea. Let's tell them we will order more products if they can make the delivery more reliable.

b I think Partco's products are very cheap.

c What do you think about Partco, Manuel?

d Is everybody ready?

e Yes, but they never deliver on time.

f That's a good idea.

g Can I say something here? I agree with Linda – deliveries from Partco are always late.

61.3 Match the different parts of the meeting (1–7) with the expressions (a–g) in 61.2 above.

1 Naomi interrupts and agrees with Linda.

2 Manuel gives his opinion.

3 Manuel makes a suggestion.

4 Linda disagrees with Manuel.

5 The chair, Chris, starts the meeting.

6 The chair asks for Manuel's opinion.

7 Chris responds.

Over to you

Think again about a recent meeting you attended. Write six lines of what people said to agree and disagree. Use some of the expressions in this unit.

Meetings 4: agreeing action and closing

A Action points

The person who takes the minutes also writes down action points – things that individual participants must do before the next meeting.

B Closing

The chairman, chairwoman or chair closes the meeting. He/She sums up – repeats the main ideas – and recaps the action points – goes over them again. He/She might also ask individual participants to follow up their individual action points – do what they said they would do.

We must stop there.

To recap the action points, Nadia is going to ...

Can I sum up? We decided ...

Please follow up your individual action points.

I think that's all for today. Thank you for coming.
See you at the next meeting.

The next meeting is on ...

62.1 Complete the table with expressions from A and B opposite.

- 1 Can we just go over again who is going to do what?
- 2 Nadia didn't have the same opinion as Monica.
- 3 Olivier, can you get the information on this subject and tell us all about it at the next meeting.
- 4 OK. Let's show what we each think about this. Those for, raise your hands.
- 5 Please can you all do what you said you were going to do about the action points.

62.3 Look at A and B opposite. Some of these statements are incorrect. Correct the statements where necessary.

- 1 If you can't attend a meeting, you send your minutes.
- 2 If you have a difference of opinion with someone about something, you disagree about it.
- 3 If you offer to find out about something and talk about it at the next meeting, you offer to report backwards.
- 4 If you talk about something, you discuss about it.
- 5 If you vote on something and everyone else votes the same way, the vote is ambiguous.
- 6 If you are the chair and you go over the action points again, you research them.
- 7 If you ask people to do what they agreed to do, you ask them to follow up on their individual action points.

Profits in billions of US dollars

	IBM	HP
This year	10.4	7.3
Last year	9.5	6.2
2 years ago	7.9	2.4
3 years ago	8.4	3.5
4 years ago	7.6	2.5

Profits have risen at both companies over the last five years, more gradually at IBM than at HP (Hewlett-Packard).

If you take the whole 5-year period, HP's profits have grown more dramatically than IBM's.

HP made nearly three times as much profit this year as four years ago.

At the same time, IBM's profits have risen from $7.6 billion to $10.4 billion.

At one point, HP's profits fell steeply, from $3.5 billion to $2.4 billion.

The same year, IBM's profits also fell sharply.

Kerry: On the move to new offices, I disagree with Rebecca when she says that things are going well. No one is ready.

Teresa: Well, everyone in my department is ready.

Suzanne: I have an idea. Why don't we postpone the move for a month?

Kerry: Sorry, I don't understand. Do you mean we should move in May instead of April?

Teresa: That's right.

Kerry: That's a good idea!

Move to new site

There was a lot of discussion about moving to a new site outside the city. Three colleagues were for this idea and two against. It was decided to ask Alexis to research the possibilities for new sites and to report back at the next meeting.

Action by Alexis, 20 Sept

Terms and conditions of use

This is a legal agreement between 'You' (which means the individual customer) and Cambridge University Press ('the Licensor') for Business Vocabulary in Use Elementary to Pre-intermediate. By placing this CD in the CD-ROM drive of your computer, you agree to the terms of this licence.

1. Licence

- You are purchasing only the right to use the CD-ROM and are acquiring no rights, express or implied to it or the software other than those rights granted in this limited licence for not-for-profit educational use only.
- Cambridge University Press grants the customer the licence to use one copy of this CD-ROM (i) on a single computer for use by one or more people at different times, or (ii) by a single person on one or more computers (provided the CD-ROM is only used on one computer at one time and is only used by the customer), but not both.
- The customer shall not: (i) copy or authorise copying of the CD-ROM, (ii) translate the CD-ROM, (iii) reverse-engineer, disassemble or decompile the CD-ROM, (iv) transfer, sell, assign or otherwise convey any portion of the CD-ROM, or (v) operate the CD-ROM from a network or mainframe system.

2. Copyright

- All original content is provided as part of the CD-ROM (including text, images and ancillary material) ('Original Material') and is the copyright of the Licensor, protected by copyright and all other applicable intellectual property laws and international treaties.
- You may not copy the CD-ROM except for making one copy of the CD-ROM solely for backup or archival purposes. You may not alter, remove or destroy any copyright notice or other material placed on or with this CD-ROM.

3. Liability

- The CD-ROM is supplied 'as-is' with no express guarantee as to its suitability. To the extent permitted by applicable law, the Licensor is not liable for costs of procurement of substitute products, damages or losses of any kind whatsoever resulting from the use of this product, or errors or faults in the CD-ROM, and in every case the Licensor's liability shall be limited to the suggested list price or the amount actually paid by You for the product, whichever is lower.
- You accept that the Licensor is not responsible for the persistency, accuracy or availability of any URLs of external or third-party internet websites referred to on the CD-ROM and does not guarantee that any content on such websites is, or will remain, accurate, appropriate or available. The Licensor shall not be liable for any content made available from any websites and URLs outside the Software.
- Where, through use of the Original Material You infringe the copyright of the Licensor You undertake to indemnify and keep indemnified the Licensor from and against any loss, cost, damage or expense (including without limitation damages paid to a third party and any reasonable legal costs) incurred by the Licensor as a result of such infringement.

4. Termination

Without prejudice to any other rights, the Licensor may terminate this licence if You fail to comply with the terms and conditions of the licence. In such event, You must destroy all copies of the CD-ROM.

5. Governing law

This agreement is governed by the laws of England, without regard to its conflict of laws provision, and each party irrevocably submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts. The parties disclaim the application of the United Nations Convention on the International Sale of Goods.

Business Vocabulary in Use Elementary to Pre-intermediate

SECOND EDITION

Bill Mascull

Business Vocabulary in Use Elementary to Pre-intermediate is for students and professionals looking to improve their knowledge and use of business vocabulary. It is for Elementary to Pre-intermediate level learners of English (levels A2 to B1 of the CEF).

This second edition comes with a brand new CD-ROM complete with:

- interactive practice exercises and games
- audio of each word or phrase
- tests for each unit of the book
- pronunciation symbols for the sounds of English, with audio and examples.

With 17 completely new units, covering topics like Business Travel and Project Management, this expanded second edition has been fully updated to reflect recent changes in business practice. As well as covering a wide range of topics, from Jobs and Industries to Products and Services, it also develops skills in key areas including Presentations, Meetings and Business Writing.

Business Vocabulary in Use Elementary to Pre-intermediate explains words and expressions, and provides practice in using the new language. This includes 'Over to you' activities so you can apply the language you learn to your own work or study.

With vocabulary drawn from the Cambridge International Corpus – a collection of English from real sources – you can be sure that the language you're learning is up-to-date, relevant and natural.

Business Vocabulary in Use Elementary to Pre-intermediate is particularly useful for self-study and includes a comprehensive answer key.

CAMBRIDGE INTERNATIONAL CORPUS

The Cambridge International Corpus (CIC) is a collection of over 1.5 billion words of real spoken and written English. The texts are stored in a database that can be searched to see how English is used. The CIC also includes the Cambridge Learner Corpus, a unique collection of over 40 million words taken from student exam papers from Cambridge ESOL. It shows real mistakes students make and highlights the parts of English which cause problems for students.
