

OXFORD

Quick Starter

DOMINOES

مرجع زبان ایرانیان

The Selfish Giant

Oscar Wilde

www.irLanguage.com

مرجع زبان ایرانیان
www.irLanguage.com

DOMINOES

The Selfish Giant

QUICK STARTER 250 HEADWORDS

این مجموعه با لوگوی مرجع زبان ایرانیان
به صورت نشر بر خط و حامل به ثبت رسیده است.
کپی برداری از آن خلاف شرع، قانون و اخلاق است و شامل پیگیرد خواهد شد.

DOMINOES

Series Editors: Bill Bowler and Sue Parminter

The Selfish Giant

Oscar Wilde

Text adaptation by Bill Bowler

Illustrated by Scott Altmann

Oscar Wilde was born in Dublin, Ireland in 1854, and studied Greek and Latin at university in Dublin and Oxford. He wrote short stories for adults, fairy tales for children, and a novel, The Picture of Dorian Gray (1891). He also wrote popular comedies for the theatre, including The Importance of Being Earnest (1895). He is famous too for his clever and funny sayings. He died in Paris in 1900 at the age of forty-six. Lord Arthur Savile's Crime and Other Stories and The Happy Prince by Oscar Wilde are also available as Dominoes.

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Story Characters

The Selfish Giant

The little boy

The children

The Snow

The Frost

The North Wind

The Hail

Autumn

Contents

Before Reading	vi
Chapter 1 The Giant comes home	1
Activities	3
Chapter 2 Always winter	4
Activities	7
Chapter 3 The hole in the wall	8
Activities	11
Chapter 4 The boy in the tree	12
Activities	15
Chapter 5 The most beautiful flowers	16
Activities	19
Chapter 6 The wounds of love	20
Activities	23
Project A	24
Project B	26
Word Work	28
Grammar	31
About Dominoes	34

BEFORE READING

This story is about a selfish Giant. What do you think happens in it? Tick the boxes.

a At first, the Giant is ... when children play in his garden.

- 1 happy
- 2 angry
- 3 afraid

b The Giant puts ... around his garden.

- 1 a wall
- 2 some shops
- 3 a road

c After this, it is always ... in the Giant's garden.

- 1 autumn
- 2 spring
- 3 winter

d Later, the Giant makes friends with ...

- 1 a little boy
- 2 two more giants
- 3 a gardener

e In the end, the Giant likes seeing the ... in his garden.

- 1 birds
- 2 children
- 3 cats

CHAPTER 1

The Giant comes home

Every afternoon, when school finishes, the children play in the Giant's garden.

It's a wonderful, big, green garden. There are beautiful flowers in it, and twelve tall trees. Birds like sitting and singing in these trees. The children often stop playing and listen to them. 'We're very happy here,' they say.

For seven years, the Giant stays away in Cornwall, at the house of his friend the Cornish Giant. Then, one day, he comes home, and he finds all the children in the garden.

'What are you doing here?' he cries angrily, and the children run away.

school students learn here

giant a very big, tall man or woman

bird an animal that can fly through the sky

‘It’s my garden,’ the Giant says. ‘People must understand! And nobody can play here – only me!’

So he puts a wall around the garden, with a big notice on it.

wall this stands between two gardens, or around a garden around all the way round

notice writing in a place that tells people something important selfish thinking only about what is good for you

He is a very selfish Giant.

Where can the children go now? They don’t like playing in the road. So after school, they walk around the wall and they look at it. And they remember the beautiful garden behind it, too.

READING CHECK

Are these sentences true or false? Tick the boxes.

	True	False
a The children play in the Giant's garden before school.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
b They are very happy there.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
c The Giant comes home from Cornwall after seven weeks.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
d When he comes back, he's happy to see the children.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
e The children run to the Giant when he arrives.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
f The Giant puts a wall around his garden.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
g He puts a notice on the wall.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
h The children like playing in the road.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
i They forget the Giant's beautiful garden.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

GUESS WHAT

What does the Giant do in the next chapter? Tick one box.

a He asks the Cornish Giant to his house

b He finds a little boy in his house.

c He watches his garden for weeks, but it doesn't change.

d He puts a door in his garden wall.

CHAPTER 2

Always winter

Then the spring comes. All over the country there are spring flowers and little birds in the green trees. But in the Selfish Giant's garden it stays winter. The birds don't want to sing in it, because there are no children. The trees there stay dark. One beautiful flower puts its head up out of the ground. But it sees the notice, and is very sorry for the children. So it goes back under the ground and sleeps again.

Nobody is happy about this – only the Snow and the Frost. 'Spring doesn't come to this garden!' they cry. 'So we can live here all year! Ha! Ha!'

spring the three months of the year when it is warm, but not hot winter the coldest three months of the year

ground we walk on this snow something soft, cold, and white frost this icy water often covers things thinly at night when it is cold

The Snow puts her cold, white coat on the ground, and the Frost puts silver on the dark trees.

They tell the North Wind, 'You must stay with us!' So he comes in his big, brown coat. He makes lots of noise up and down the garden, and he moves things here and there all day.

'This is wonderful!' he cries. 'Let's ask the Hail here, too!'

So the Hail comes. Every day he sits on the roof of the Giant's big, old house. He never stops hitting it noisily, hour after hour. His suit is the colour of smoke. And cold smoke comes from his mouth when he opens it.

silver something that is the colour of an expensive white metal wind air that moves

hail cold, hard rain

roof the thing on top of a building that stops the rain coming in

The Selfish Giant sits at his window. He looks out at his cold, white garden.

'I don't understand,' he says. 'The spring's very late this year. When is it coming? And when is this winter finishing?'

READING CHECK

Match the characters from Chapter 2 with the sentences.

the Flower

the Frost

the Selfish Giant

the Hail

the North Wind

the Snow

- a In the Selfish Giant 's garden, it stays winter.
- b puts its head out of the ground.
- c sees 's notice and goes under the ground again.
- d puts her cold, white coat on the ground.
- e puts silver on the dark trees.
- f has a big, brown coat.
- g moves things here and there in the garden.
- h sits on the Selfish Giant's roof and hits it noisily.
- i 's suit is the colour of smoke.
- j sits at his window and looks at the garden.

GUESS WHAT

What happens in the next chapter? Tick two sentences.

- a Some cats come to the Selfish Giant's garden.
- b The children come back into the Giant's garden.
- c All the trees in the Selfish Giant's garden die.
- d The winter goes from the Giant's garden.
- e A big cat kills all the birds in the Giant's garden.
- f The Selfish Giant sleeps for a hundred years.

CHAPTER 3

The hole in the wall

The spring and the summer never come to the Giant's garden. The Autumn brings golden apples to most people's gardens, but to the Giant's garden she brings nothing. 'I don't give to selfish people,' she says.

So it is always winter there. And the North Wind, the Hail, the Frost and the Snow run about in it.

One morning, when the Giant opens his eyes in bed, he hears some music.

'That's beautiful!' he cries. 'But what is it?' A little bird is singing near his window – that's all. But after the long winter in his garden, the Giant can't remember the noise very well.

summer the hottest three months of the year

autumn the three months of the year between summer and winter

golden the colour of an expensive yellow metal music people listen or dance to this

www.irLanguage.com

Then the Hail stops hitting the roof, and the North Wind is quiet. Suddenly a wonderful perfume comes to the Giant through the open window. 'The spring's here at last, I think!' he cries. Then he gets up and looks out.

What a wonderful thing! The children are coming into the garden through a little hole in the wall, and they are sitting in the trees. And the trees are happy because the children are back. They begin to blossom and move their arms about.

perfume a nice smell

hole an opening in something that you can go through blossom to have flowers (of a tree); a flower on a tree

The birds are singing happily in the sky. The flowers are coming out of the ground and laughing.

But far across the garden – in one corner – it isn't spring. A young boy is standing there. There is frost and snow on his tree, and he cannot get up into it. So he is crying.

corner where the two sides of something meet

READING CHECK

Choose the correct words to complete the sentences.

- a The autumn brings golden / red apples to most gardens.
- b She brings nothing / something to the Giant's garden.
- c One day, a child / bird sings in the Giant's garden.
- d Suddenly, the Hail and North Wind make lots of / no noise.
- e A nice perfume / noise comes through the Giant's window.
- f Children go and sit in / under the Giant's trees.
- g Winter leaves most / all of the Giant's garden.
- h A young girl / boy cries in one corner of the garden.

GUESS WHAT

What happens in the next chapter? Tick the boxes.

- a A tree in the corner of the garden wants to help the little boy.
- b The Giant goes out into his garden.
- c The children are happy to see the Giant.
- d Most of the children run to the Giant.
- e The little boy has his head in his hands.
- f He looks up, sees the Giant, and cries.
- g The Giant puts the little boy up into the tree.
- h The children bring back spring to the garden.
- i The Giant takes away the garden wall.

Yes	No
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

CHAPTER 4

The boy in the tree

'Get up, little boy!' says the tree in that corner of the garden, and it puts its branches nearer the ground for the young boy. But he is very little, and he can't get on them.

The Giant watches from his window, and his cold heart is suddenly warmer.

'Now I see!' he cries. 'The spring doesn't come here because I'm selfish.' He is truly sorry.

'I know!' he says. 'I can put the little boy up in the tree and knock down the wall. Then the children can always play in my garden.'

branch part of a tree

heart the centre of feeling in someone knock down to hit something and break it into pieces

So he goes quietly down to his front door, and he opens it. Then he goes out into the garden.

When the children see him, they are very afraid. So they all run away, and it is winter in the garden again.

But the little boy has his head in his hands. He can't see the Giant. So the Giant goes very quietly over to him. He takes the little boy carefully in his hand, and he puts him up in the tree.

At once, the tree blossoms, and the birds come and sing in it. Then the little boy puts his arms around the Giant's neck, and he hugged him.

When the other children see this, they understand: the Giant isn't bad any more! So they run back into the garden, and the spring comes with them.

neck this is between your head and your body hug hold someone close, take someone in one's arms.

other different

axe you use this to cut wood

'It's your garden now, little children,' the Giant says. Then he takes a big axe, and he knocks down the wall.

READING CHECK

Correct nine more mistakes in the story.

The tree in the corner of the garden puts its ~~apples~~ ~~branches~~... near the ground for the young boy. But the boy is tired, and he can't get on them. The Giant sees this, and his heart is suddenly colder. He goes quietly out of his back door and out into the garden.

The children are happy, and they all run away. But the boy in the corner has his head in his books. He can't see the Giant.

So the Giant puts him up in the tree. Then the boy kills the Giant.

After that, all the children walk back into the garden, and winter comes with them.

In the end, the Giant knocks down the wall around the garden with his feet.

GUESS WHAT

What happens in the next chapter? Tick one box for a, b, and c.

a The Giant...

- 1 soon forgets the little boy in the tree.
- 2 plays with the children for many years.
- 3 doesn't like the children's games when he is older.

b The little boy in the tree...

- 1 doesn't come to the Giant's garden for many years.
- 2 visits the Giant again when he is a young man.
- 3 goes and lives in the Giant's house with him.

c The children...

- 1 play in the Giant's garden every afternoon.
- 2 tell the Giant all about the little boy.
- 3 take the Giant to the little boy's home in the town.

CHAPTER 5

The most beautiful flowers

At twelve o'clock that day, the people are going to the shops. They see the Giant. He is playing with the children in the most beautiful garden.

All day long the children play. In the evening, they come and say goodbye to the Giant.

'But where's your little friend?' he asks them. The young boy is the Giant's favourite because he remembers the child's hug.

'We don't know,' one of the children answers. 'He isn't here now.'

favourite the one that someone likes best

‘Well, he must come again tomorrow. Please tell him that,’ the Giant says. ‘Where does he live?’

‘We’re not sure,’ a different child says. ‘We don’t know him.’

When the Giant hears this, he is very sad.

Every afternoon, when school finishes, the children come and play with the Giant. But the Giant’s favourite, the little boy, never comes back. The Giant is very nice to all the children, but he wants to see his first little friend again. He speaks about him a lot. ‘I’d like to see him again one day,’ he often says.

sure when you feel that something is true

sad not happy

After many years, the Giant is old and weak. He cannot play any more. So he sits in a nice big chair, and he watches the children's games. He looks at his garden happily, too.

weak not strong game something that you play; tennis and football are games

'I have many beautiful flowers,' he says. 'But the children are the most beautiful flowers of all.'

READING CHECK

Choose the correct pictures.

a Who sees the Giant playing with the children at twelve o'clock?

- 1 people from the town
- 2 the Autumn
- 3 some flowers

b What does the Giant remember of the boy in the tree?

- 1 his eyes
- 2 his hair
- 3 his hug

c When do the children visit the Giant's garden?

- 1 after breakfast
- 2 after work
- 3 after school

d What does the Giant watch when he is older?

- 1 the television
- 2 the children's games
- 3 the birds

e What, for the Giant, is the most beautiful thing in his garden?

- 1 the birds
- 2 the flowers
- 3 the children

GUESS WHAT

What happens in the next chapter? Label the sentences G (Giant) or B (boy).

- a He looks out of his window at the garden in winter.
- b He is wearing only white.
- c He is suddenly angry.
- d He smiles.
- e He talks about his garden.
- f He dies happily.

The Giant

The little boy

CHAPTER 6

The wounds of love

One winter morning, when he is getting up, the Giant looks out of his window. The winter doesn't matter to him now. The spring is sleeping at that time of the year, he knows, and the flowers are in their beds under the ground.

Suddenly, he sees something wonderful. 'Can it be true?' he cries.

Far across the garden in one corner, there is a tree with beautiful white blossoms all over it. There are silver apples on its golden branches. And the little boy – his favourite – is standing under the tree. He is all in white.

The Giant runs down to his front door, and out into the garden. He goes quickly across it to the child. But when he comes near, his face is suddenly angry. 'Where do these wounds come from?' he cries.

Because there on the boy's hands are the wounds of two nails. And the wounds of two nails are on his little feet.

'Who is guilty of this? Tell me, and I can take my big sword and kill him!'

'No,' the child answers. 'Because these are the wounds of love.'

'Who are you?' the Giant says quietly, and he kneels before the child.

wound a hole in the body from a knife or a nail nail a thick metal pin for fixing one thing to another thing guilty doing something bad in the past sword a long knife for fighting

kneel to go on your knees

Then the child smiles at the Giant, and tells him, 'You remember me from before, here in your garden. And today you are coming away with me to my garden – Paradise.'

When the children run into the garden that afternoon, they find the Giant under the tree. He is dead now. And there are beautiful white blossoms all over him.

Paradise the happy garden of God, where good people go when they die

READING CHECK

Put these sentences in order. Number them 1–10.

- a The boy asks the Giant to his garden, Paradise.
- b The boy smiles at the Giant.
- c The children find the dead Giant under the blossom tree.
- d The Giant dies.
- e The Giant kneels in front of the boy.
- f The Giant looks out of his window at his garden.
- g The Giant runs out of his house to the little boy.
- h The Giant sees nail wounds on the boy's hands and feet.
- i The Giant sees the little boy under a white blossom tree.
- j The old Giant gets up one winter morning.

مرجع زبان ایرانیان
www.OL.com
irLanguage.com

GUESS WHAT

What does the Giant do in Paradise after the story finishes? Tick the boxes and add your own ideas.

- a He plays with the children there.
- b He works in the garden.
- c He talks to the little boy about his wounds of love.
- d He meets the little boy's father.
- e He meets a beautiful woman Giant.
- f He meets the Cornish Giant when he arrives.
- g
- h
- i

Project A Personification

personification is when a writer describes a thing like a person.

1 Match the things with what they do in the story.

- | | |
|---|---|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a The Flower b The Frost c The Hail d The North Wind e The Snow | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> 1 ...moves things here and there all day. 2 ...puts her cold, white coat on the ground. 3 ...puts its head up out of the ground. 4 ...puts silver on the trees. 5 ...hits the Giant's roof noisily. |
|---|---|

2 Read the notes in the table about the Autumn. Complete the text on page 25.

Who is she?	Autumn
What does she look like?	golden hair and brown eyes
How old is she?	about 50
What does she wear?	a red and yellow dress
What is in her hands?	lots of fruit and vegetables
What does she do?	visits people's gardens; puts golden apples on trees
Where does she live?	in a big golden tree-house on a dark brown hill
What kind of person is she?	very generous; loves giving things to people

..... has hair and eyes. She is about years old and she wears a and

In her hands she has lots of and

She people's gardens and puts on the trees there.

She lives in a big on a dark

She is a very person. She loves to

Winter

Spring

Summer

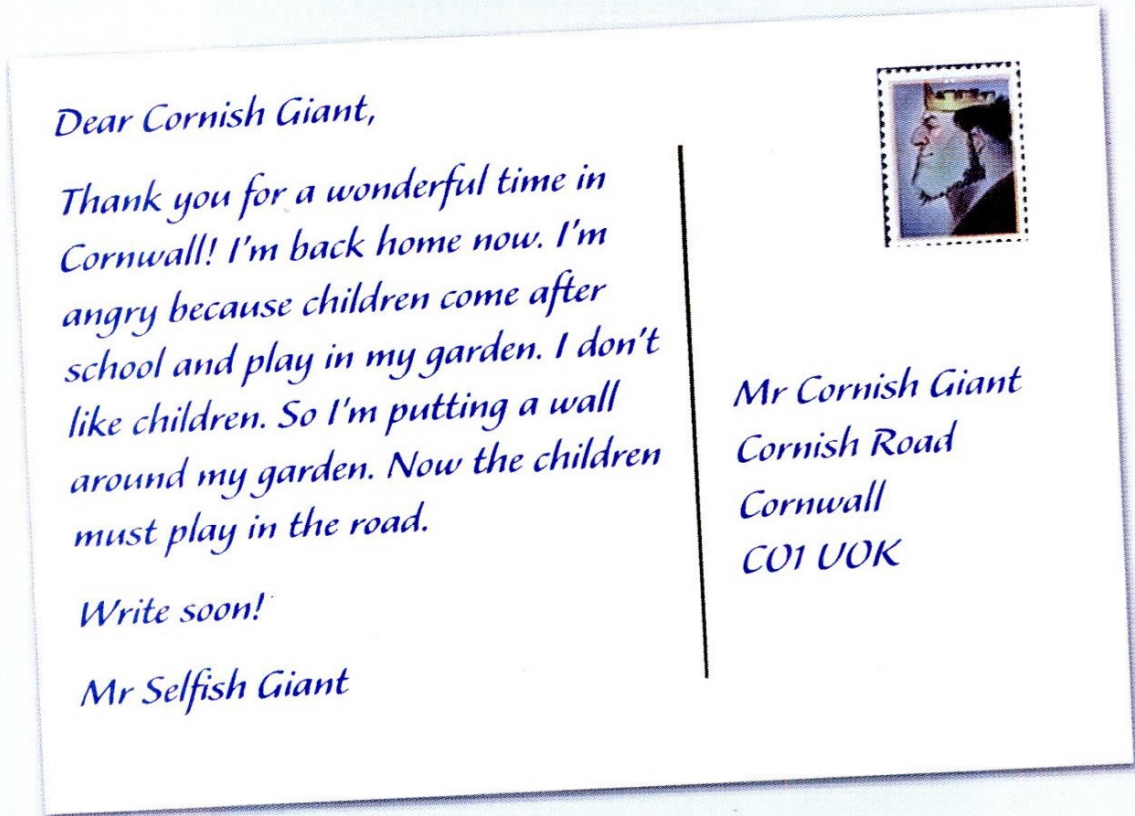

3 Choose a different time of year. Imagine it is a person. Complete the table.

Who is he/she?
What does he/she look like?
How old is he/she?
What does he/she wear?
What is in his/her hands?
What does he/she do?
Where does he/she live?
What kind of person is he/she?

4 Write about your time of year using personification. Use your notes in Activity 3 and the text in Activity 2 to help you.

Project B Writing a postcard

1 Read this postcard. Which part of the story is it about?

chapter
page
lines

2 Write this postcard with punctuation. Use the postcard in Activity 1 to help you.

dear north wind were having a wonderful time in the selfish giants garden its winter here all the year the frost is putting silver on the trees and i leave my cold white coat on the ground every day you must come and stay with us you can make a lot of noise and move things here and there all day come soon mrs snow

Mr North Wind
Windy Street
North Pole
NP2 1CC

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

3 Which part of the story is the postcard in Activity 2 about?

chapter
page
lines

4 Write a postcard from the Selfish Giant to the Cornish Giant about a different part of the story. Your classmates must guess which part.

WORD WORK 1

1 Find words from Chapters 1 and 2 in the flowers to match the pictures.

a lawl wall.....

b enocit

c ofor

d drib

e loshoc

f tinga

g ritnew

h psirgn

2 Complete the sentences with words from Chapters 1 and 2.

- a Look at the frost on the window! It makes beautiful picture
- b The garden's all white today. There's on everything.
- c There are lots of trees grandmother's house.
- d He doesn't help people. He's a very man.
- e She's old and has got lots of in her hair now.
- f Listen to that! The is very noisy tonight.
- g Ouch! My head! That isn't rain. It's!
- h What's that on the near your feet?

WORD WORK 2

1 Look at the pictures. Complete the crossword with words from Chapters 3 and 4.

ACROSS

DOWN

2 Complete each sentence with a word or phrase from the box.

blossom ~~branches~~ golden knocking down other

- a There are lots of birds on the ... branches ... of that tree.
- b Look at these apples! They're a nice colour.
- c Can you see the white on all the trees? It's spring!
- d Oh, no! They're our old school!
- e I like this picture, but I don't like the pictures in the book.

WORD WORK 3

1 These words don't match the pictures. Correct them.

a ~~sword~~..... nail.....

b sad.....

c wound.....

d weak.....

e nail.....

f kneel.....

2 Complete the sentences with words from Chapters 5 and 6.

- a Adam and Eve leave Paradise after they eat the apple.
- b Which is your favorite book?
- c Is he the killer? This is the question. Is he guilty?
- d 'Do you want to come tonight?' 'I'm not sure. Perhaps.'
- e Can we play a game of tennis later?

GRAMMAR CHECK

Linkers: and, but, so and because and links two parts of a sentence with the same idea.

There are trees in the Giant's garden and there are flowers, too.

but links two parts of a sentence with different ideas.

The Giant is away in Cornwall, but he comes back home.

so links two parts of a sentence talking about the result of something.

He puts a wall around his garden so the children can't go in.

(result of first part of sentence)

because links two parts of a sentence talking about the reason for something.

The children run away from the Giant because they are afraid.

(reason for first part of sentence)

1 Circle the correct word to complete each sentence.

- a It's spring all over the country, but / so in the Giant's garden it is winter.
- b The children can't visit the garden so / because they play in the road.
- c The birds don't sing in the garden but / because there are no children there.
- d The flower sees the notice and / because he is sorry for the children.
- e Most people don't like the cold, so / but the Snow and the Frost love it.
- f The North Wind comes on a visit because / but the Snow and the Frost ask him.
- g The Hail's suit is the colour of smoke and / but cold smoke comes from his mouth.
- h The Giant is selfish so / but the Autumn doesn't bring apples to him.
- i The Hail stops making a noise and / but the North Wind is quiet.

GRAMMAR CHECK

Present Simple: third person –s

We add -s to the infinitive without to to make the third person (he / she / it) form of the Present Simple.

The Giant finds the children in his garden.

When verbs end in -o, -ch, -ss, or -sh, we add -es to make the third person form.

finish – They go there when school finishes.

When verbs end in consonant + -y, we change the y to i and add -es.

cry – ‘What are you doing here?’ he cries.

The verbs be and have are irregular.

The Giant is very angry. ✓ The Giant bes very angry. ✗

He has (got) a big axe. ✓ He haves a big axe. ✗

We can use the Present Simple to re-tell a story.

2 Complete these sentences with the verbs in brackets in the Present Simple.

- a The Giant hears (hear) music at his open window.
- b ‘The spring’s here at last!’ he (cry).
- c He (look) out at his garden.
- d He (see) something in one corner.
- e ‘Get up, little boy,’ (say) the tree.
- f The Giant (watch) all of this from the window of his house.
- g His cold heart (be) suddenly warmer after this.
- h He (go) out into the garden.
- i The little boy (have) his head sadly in his hands.
- j The Giant (do) something very good and beautiful.
- k He (put) the little boy up in the branches of the tree.
- l The boy (kiss) the Giant happily.

GRAMMAR CHECK

Present Continuous: affirmative and negative

We use the Present Continuous to talk about things happening now. We make the Present Continuous affirmative of most verbs with the verb be + the -ing form of the verb.

The Giant is standing next to the tree.

When a verb ends in consonant + -e, we take away the e and add -ing.

smile – The boy is smiling now.

When verbs end in a stressed short vowel + consonant, we double the final consonant and add -ing.

run – The children are runⁿing away.

We put n't (not) with the verb be to make the Present Continuous negative.

The children aren't (are not) walking.

3 Complete the text about the picture with the verbs in the correct form.

The little boy is a) is standing... (stand) in the tree and he b) (look) at the Giant. The Giant c) (smile). Some children
 d) (come) back into the garden through the hole in the wall. They
 e) (not cry) and they f) (not laugh). They
 g) (watch) the Giant carefully. Some birds h) (sit) in the tree with the boy in it. They i) (sing) happily. The tree
 j) (blossom) and the snow k) (go) quickly from the ground. It l) (not rain). It's warm and the sun is in the sky.

The Selfish Giant

'It's my garden,' says the Giant. 'People must understand. Nobody can play here – only me!'

So the children leave, and the Selfish Giant puts a wall around his garden. After that, it's always winter there.

Later, the Giant feels sorry for a young boy in the snow. He knocks down the garden wall – and the children, and the spring, come back. But where is the young boy now? And how can the Giant find him again?

Text adaptation by Bill Bowler
Illustrated by Scott Altmann

 This book is supported by a MultiROM, containing a complete dramatized audio recording of the story plus interactive activities.

Series Editors: Bill Bowler and Sue Parminter

Word count 1,440

LEVEL	HEADWORDS
Three	1000
Two	700
One	400
Starter & Quick Starter	250

www.irLanguage.com

DOMINOES
THE STRUCTURED APPROACH TO READING IN ENGLISH

Quick Starters are shorter than Starters

مرجع زبان ایرانیان

DOMINOES

Quick Starter

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

www.oup.com/elt

مرجع زبان ایرانیان
www.irLanguage.com