How the course works

English for Everyone is designed for people who want to teach themselves the English language. The Business English edition covers essential English phrases and constructions for a wide range of common business scenarios.

Unlike other courses, English for Everyone uses images and graphics in all its learning and practice, to help you understand and remember as easily as possible. The best way to learn is to work through the book in order, making full use of the audio available on the website and app. Turn to the practice book at the end of each unit to reinforce your learning with additional exercises.

Practice modules

Each exercise is carefully graded to drill and test the language taught in the corresponding course book units. Working through the exercises alongside the course book will help you remember what you have learned and become more fluent. Every exercise is introduced with a symbol to indicate which skill is being practiced.

GRAMMAR

Apply new language rules in different contexts.

Sample answer The first question of each exercise is answered for you, to help make the task easy to understand.

Listening exercise This symbol indicates that you should listen to an audio track in order to answer the questions in the exercise.

Speaking exercise This symbol indicates that you should say your answers out loud, then compare them to model recordings included in your audio files.

Audio

English for Everyone features extensive supporting audio materials. You are encouraged to use them as much as you can, to improve your understanding of spoken English, and to make your own accent and pronunciation more natural. Each file can be played, paused, and repeated as often as you like, until you are confident you understand what has been said.

LISTENING EXERCISES

This symbol indicates that you should listen to an audio track in order to answer the questions in the exercise.

ESSENTIAL SKILLS

Meeting and greeting

Meeting new people isn't always easy, but it's an essential skill for a young business professional.

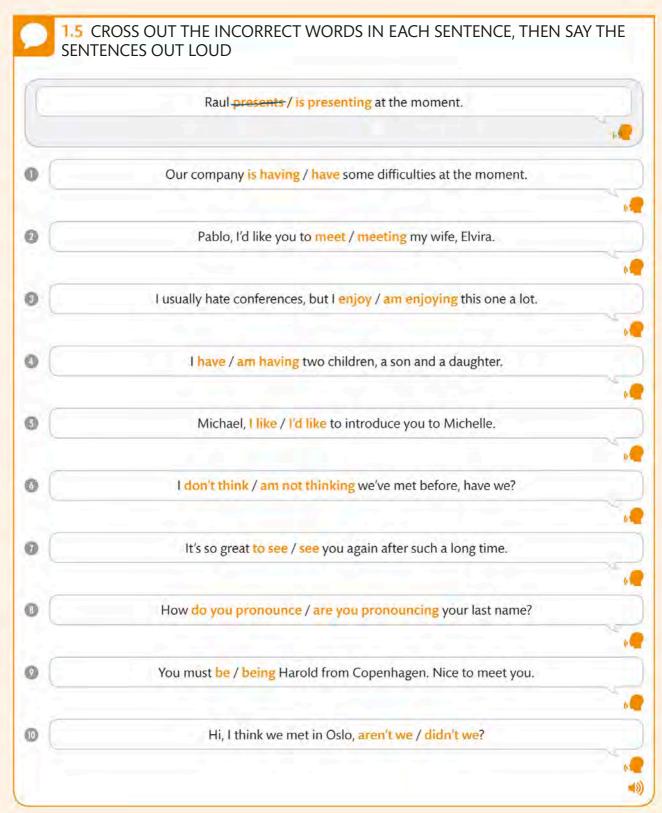

hether you're looking for a new job, hope to grow your business, or just want to find new clients, you need to talk to the right people. It doesn't always lead to success, but it can provide a great first step. So, what's the best way to start talking?

Talk about your recent experience: "I'm working with some great software engineers at the moment" is a great way to start. You can tell them about your personal life and interests: "I play golf with my friend on the weekend" might be a good starter. But you shouldn't talk about things that are too personal. If you ask someone how much money they earn, they might be offended! Another good idea is to talk about one of your clients: "I often work with ElectroSan, an exciting new Japanese start-up." You will soon find that the person you're talking to wants to know more...

DAILY OFFICE TIPS

A problem shared... can be a problem halved etting your fellow team members involved in your daily tasks makes life easier for everyone, surely? But only when you know how to delegate effectively. In my experience, I've found it helps if you think about these four simple steps:

You need to think about who you're delegating to. Are they the best person for the job? What will they give, and what will they learn?

2 You don't have to follow your team's every step or decision. But you should be communicative and offer advice. A supported team is an effective team.

You must set a clear deadline. Everyone needs to know when the project should end. Otherwise your project will lose its momentum.

You have to offer your team feedback. Everyone appreciates credit for success, but they also want to know what went wrong.

LOCATION REPORT

The aim of this report is to assess the advantages and disadvantages of moving the company headquarters to Alchester.

The following report will look at location, transportation, housing, and the available tax breaks.

Location The site in Alchester is 20 miles from downtown. The town has two large colleges and a number of other IT companies. However, it is more than 200 miles to the nearest major city.

Transportation There is an airport and the rail connections to other cities are good. However, the airport is far (30 miles away) and the station can only be reached by taxi.

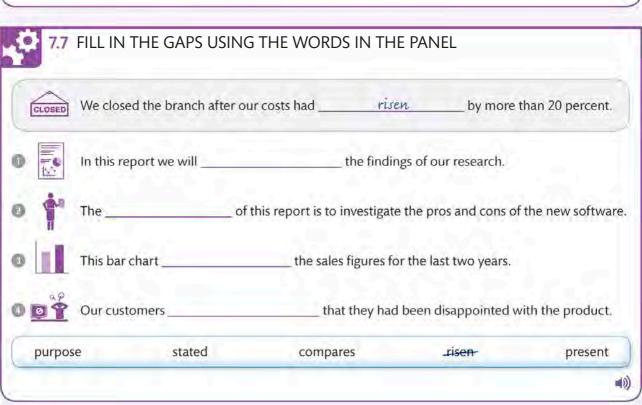

Housing Based on the initial research, we concluded that housing is much more affordable than in major cities. The proposed site is near an attractive suburb.

Tax subsidies The local government offers large grants to companies that want to move to the area. However, these are only available if the company is willing to stay in the area for more than ten years.

Conclusion Many of our employees stated that they would not be happy living so far from a city. Others stated that they found the affordable accommodation very attractive. The grants offered are attractive, but the company will need to make a big commitment.

The stuff of life

This week we look at how bread is made throughout the world.

B read has been made since prehistoric times and is eaten by most cultures today. But how is it made? A raising agent like yeast is added to flour with warm water. A dough is made and the gluten in the flour is activated by a process called kneading, which is when the dough is massaged for about 10 minutes. The dough is then left in a warm place to rise. Then the air is knocked out of it and it is kneaded a second time. The dough is then shaped into a loaf or rolls. Some of these are very decorative, and individual bakers often have their own special design. Finally, the dough is left to rise again and then baked in a hot oven. The result is delicious warm bread!

How we can plan the ideal event for your company

Red Giraffe is an international events management business. We are one of the biggest events organizers in the US, and our clients range from start-up businesses to large corporations. We enjoy all aspects of the job, but the most enjoyable is entertaining clients. Our clients expect to receive excellent service and we pride ourselves on meeting their every requirement. We often take clients out for lunch during the planning phase to talk about their requirements. It's good to do this over a meal as they say what they really want when they are relaxed and enjoying the food.

Kayaking is one of the team-building events that Red Giraffe will offer soon.

After lunch, we have a brainstorming session in groups. When all the clients have arrived, we serve coffee as it helps to get the ideas flowing. All kinds of things come up in these sessions. For instance, when we planned a launch for a media company, the employees kept saying we should have a boat trip on the river. But some people didn't like this idea because their competitors had done the same, so we went for a covered venue in a converted warehouse. Next year, we plan to start offering team-building events, such as sports days and treasure hunts. We expect these to be very popular with our clients.

REPORT

Problem:

Over the past 12 months, our overseas sales have fallen dramatically. Competition from Asia, particularly China, is intense.

Proposed solutions:

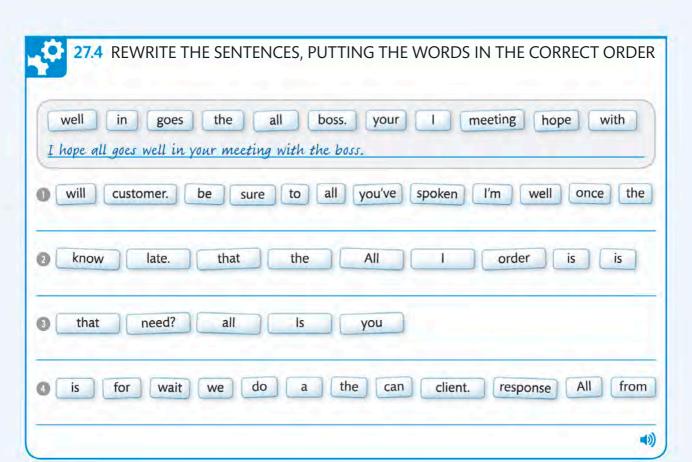

There is little we can do to turn this situation around in the next couple of months.

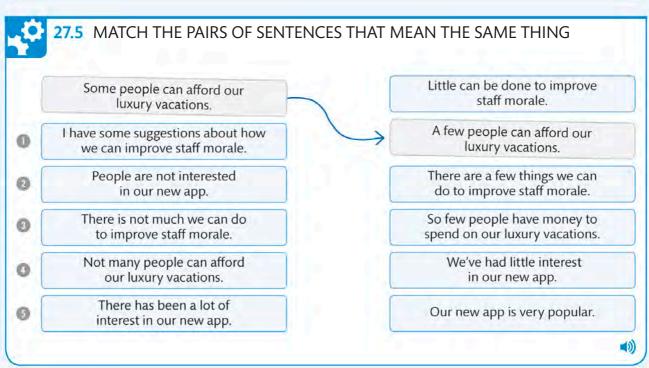

However, if we take a long-term view, there are a few solutions.

- 1) We can lower our prices a little. This will make our products more price-competitive. Currently, our products are 15–25% more expensive than China-made products.
- 2) We can launch a new advertising campaign. Our research suggests that few people over the age of 50 have heard of our brand. This is a big market we can access if we get our advertising message right. At the other end of the market, very few teenagers seem interested in our products. We need to position our advertising to make our brand appear current and fashionable.
- 3) We have very few stores in Asia. We can consider opening a few more stores in Asia so that we can become a more familiar brand in this important market.

Dear Ms. Jenkins.

I am writing to apply for the position of Head of Marketing as advertised on your company website.

I have more than ten years' experience in marketing, and I have worked in the marketing departments of several big companies, where I developed award-winning campaigns in key markets. Last year I was responsible for introducing a new customer-focused branding initiative.

In my current position, I am responsible for training junior members of staff. I run the sales and marketing operations for the Europe region. This includes setting the sales and marketing strategy for the region.

I would welcome the opportunity to learn new skills. I am also energetic, dynamic, and extremely reliable.

Please find attached my résumé and references. I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely,

Ellie Abrahams

Keeping up with competitors

Some companies have been slow to get up to speed with using social media to strengthen their brand. Some even look down on using social media as trivial and having no value in the business world, but they do so at their own risk. With social media you can reach out to a wider audience and keep up with the latest trends.

Here at ABC Foods we use social media to tell our customers our news. We have previews of our TV ads, so subscribers feel they are keeping up with our news and developments.

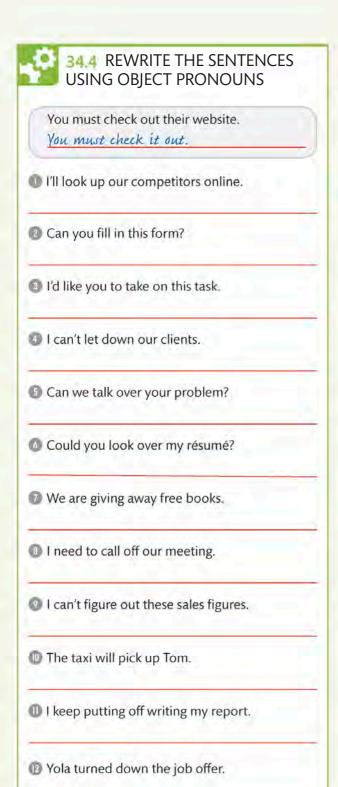

We also run competitions that make us stand out from our competitors. Last month, we asked our subscribers to post recipes they had come up with using their favorite ABC foods. We then had customers like their favorite recipes and the best three won prizes.

Using social media in such ways allows us to build loyal customer relationships. Customer loyalty is key to us as loyal customers make repeat purchases. We have to constantly be coming up with new features for our social media activity. Perhaps you have an idea for our next competition!

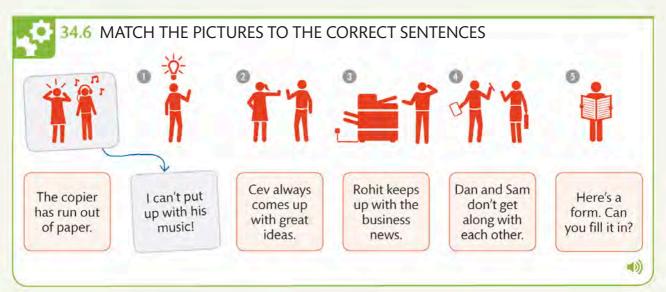

What can social media help you do? It can help you strengthen your brand.	What does ABC Foods have previews of?
Why don't some companies like social media?	Why does the company do this?
Why is it a risk to ignore social media?	Why does ABC Foods run competitions?

 Practice! Don't leave it until the day to work out how to use the projector screen. Have two or three dry runs to resolve any problems so that your presentation is smooth and professional.

 Make sure equipment is working! Charge any batteries, make sure cords are plugged into sockets and test built-in cameras to make sure they are working, especially if you only use them now and again.

PRESENTING PROFESSIONALLY

Your boss asks you to give a presentation, but you don't know where to start. Here are our top tips.

✓ On the whole, you should begin your presentation with a summary statement: explain what issue you are addressing and what your presentation will contain.

✓ Home in on key trends. By and large, you don't need to talk about every single detail of an issue. In fact, it's much better to summarize the most important information, or the most dramatic results.

✓ In general, you should end with a recommendation or conclusion. What do you think your company should do in the future? How can they solve a problem or work more efficiently? You can also ask your audience a question: give them something to think about.

✓ Keep it brief. It's much better to give an excellent 5-minute presentation than to give a boring talk for 30 minutes.

INDUSTRY AND TECHNOLOGY

Gloom in construction sector

he construction sector experienced a difficult first quarter, with share prices in the leading construction companies declining considerably. It is believed that worries about recent political events have contributed to a considerable drop in profits in the sector.

Mayvis Homes, which specializes in residential property for the over-60s, saw its share price fall by 12 percent in the first quarter, and there are fears that it could fall further before the end of the year. CEO Stan Gilmore said that customers are adopting a "wait and see" approach before making the decision to buy.

Going against the general trend is Rushington Construction PLC, which focuses on the education and healthcare sectors. Although the company's share price fluctuated slightly last year, the first quarter saw a return to stability, with the company's share price rallying slightly in the first quarter. The company relies on government contracts for between 60 and 85 percent of its work, and therefore is not so affected by short-term market trends.

Dear Mr. Chang,

I am writing to apply for the position of Senior Sales Consultant, as advertised on your website.

I have worked in the sales industry for more than eight years, and am trained in selling a range of products to varied markets. In my current position, I am responsible for sales to Asian markets, and last year I looked after the new market of China, where sales amounted to more than $10 million.

I am passionate about working in the sales industry and welcome the opportunity to learn new skills. I run the training program for new staff members and ten of the junior sales consultants report to me. In their training, I focus on developing awareness of the most effective sales strategies.

Please find my résumé and references attached. I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely, Deepak Singh

- If he had left earlier, he wouldn't have been late for the meeting.
- If you had been less rude, we would have won the contract.
- The CEO would have promoted me if she had seen my presentation.
- If we had lowered the price, we would have made more sales.
