Mark and I were at university together about fifteen years ago. I don't see him often, but we stay in touch by email. Mark's quite serious and fairly intelligent, but he can also be really funny. He's a reliable friend and he helps me when I have problems.

He has a good job as a financial consultant. Although he has a good salary, he doesn't spend his money on expensive things.

I get on well with Mark because we have the same interests. We always have something to say and, when I see him, we spend hours chatting about life.

Old friends

I was walking along the street when I saw an old friend. I hadn't seen Renata for nearly five years. At first, she didn't recognise me, but when I spoke, she smiled.

I asked Renata where she had been. I'd called her lots of times, but she'd never answered the phone. Renata explained that she'd moved house five years ago. When she was moving, she lost her phone.

It was so good to see her again. I'd been worried that she didn't want to talk to me, but she was pleased to see me. We've been in touch nearly every day since then.

The room was full of children and I was the only adult there. I needed to sit on a little chair and write on a tiny table. I had registered for a children's exam!

Hi Karl,

Great to hear from you. I'm pleased you're doing well.

You asked about starting a new free-time activity. Firstly, you should decide what you want to do. You could try sports or studying something. Sports are healthier, but studying's good, too. Next, try to find out about activities in your area. Most sports centres and evening schools have their own webpage. Lastly, don't be afraid to try the activity first. If you like it, you can carry on!

I hope this is useful. If you want to talk about it, just get in touch.

You don't need to memorise everything. Focus on the things that you find difficult.

Lastly, eat well and make sure you get plenty of sleep!

I hope this is useful. Get in touch if you want to talk about it. Good luck!

One idea is to teach children about how to use electronic devices in a responsible way. Unfortunately, a lot of them don't know about the social and health issues. The problem is that these devices can be fun and children forget about other things they could do with their time. We need to make sure there are opportunities for them to do sports, join clubs and hang out with other young people. We should build more sports clubs and places where they can do exercise and try new sports. We could also organise more clubs and activities for them to do after school.

Line of Duty is one of my favourite TV programmes. It's a police drama which focuses on a team of police officers. They have to find out if other police officers are involved in crime.

I like it because you never know if the police officers are good or bad. Because of that, it's more original than other police dramas. It's not just heroes against bad guys. Sometimes the heroes are also the bad guys!

While other police dramas just copy each other, Line of Duty is different. The actors are outstanding and the stories are creative. If you like police series, you must watch Line of Duty!

- 3 Who did you use to get on with at school?
- 4 Are you going to go to the cinema soon?

Ex 2

Example answers:

1 (How long have you known your best friend?)

My best friend is Mark and I've known him since we were children.

2 (What's the most beautiful place you've ever been to?)

I think it's a little fishing village on the north coast of Scotland. It's like the perfect village.

3 (Who did you use to get on with at school?)

I used to get on well with everyone and we spent a lot of time playing together.

4 (Are you going to go to the cinema soon?)

I don't think so because I watch films on the internet these days.

Ex 3

Example answer:

In this picture, I can see some young people who are working in a kitchen. They are wearing T-shirts which seem to say "volunteer" on them. In front of them there are some big pots with vegetables in them. There is also a man with a hat on and one of the volunteers is putting some food on his plate. Because of that, I think they're volunteers who are helping people who don't have a place to live. They're all smiling and they look happy to be there.

Ex 5

Example answer:

I agree that climate change is a big problem. The issue is that people won't change their lives easily. One idea is to organise a car-free day in your city. Although people use their cars a lot, they cause a lot of pollution. You could tell them about other ways to get around, like bicycles or public transport. You could use social media to tell people about it. Another suggestion is to organise a campaign to do more recycling in your city. Unfortunately, we throw away too many things and we could recycle them. You could give prizes to the people who do the most recycling.

- 1 I enjoyed finding out about local customs.

- 4 I'd expected it to snow, but it was hot.

Ex 6

Example answer:

Hi Andrea,

I've been in Marseille for three weeks now. At first, I was nervous, but I didn't need to worry. I've had a great time! I'd expected the weather to be hotter, but it's not too bad. I've been able to explore the city. It's strange because there's a mixture of European and North African culture here.

One of the best things is that there are plenty of cultural events. There are some amazing art galleries and museums. The nightlife is great as well. The other night I came across a café playing hip hop music.

Anyway, I'll tell you more in my next email.

Best wishes,

Charlie

- 3 What accommodation do you like to stay in on holiday?
- 4 If you had the chance, would you live in another country?

Ex 2

Example answers:

1 (What festivals do you enjoy taking part in?)

My favourite festival is New Year's Eve because I can go out with my friends all night!

2 (How many times have you been abroad?)

I've only been once, to Italy.

3 (What accommodation do you like to stay in on holiday?)

I prefer to stay in a hotel because it's comfortable.

4 (If you had the chance, would you live in another country?)

I probably wouldn't want to live abroad because I'd miss my family.

Ex 3

Example answer:

In this picture, I can see two people who are sitting next to a tent in the countryside. I suppose they're on a camping holiday, but the weather is really bad. It's raining and foggy and they don't look very happy. They're wearing raincoats and walking boots. The man is making a hot drink on a small cooker and his friend is holding a cup. They probably want to get warm before they go to sleep.

Ex 6

Example answer:

A couple of years ago, my car broke down so I took it to a mechanic. She said she couldn't repair it so I decided to try to do it myself.

I looked online and I found a discussion forum where people talked about similar problems. After reading a few comments, I worked out what the problem was. I couldn't fix it immediately because I needed to replace some parts. Luckily, I could get them online. I followed the instructions on the forum and it worked!

It hasn't broken down since then, but, if it stops working again, I'll be able to fix it myself.

They're all smiling so I think they must be enjoying the lesson.

The woman in the middle is holding a plate and it looks like there's some flat bread on it. I think the clothes and the bread are a local tradition. It must be very cold because there's snow on the floor. Perhaps it's a New Year's celebration.

Example answer:

Hi Mariona,

I've just finished my English course.

It's been an interesting experience and I've learnt a lot. I did plenty of speaking practice and I speak much better now. My teacher said my writing had improved as well. At first, it was difficult to learn new vocabulary, but the teacher showed us how to memorise new words. It helped me a lot and I can still remember a lot of the words. I hadn't expected the course to be fun, but it was amazing. The other students were friendly and I felt connected to them by the end.

Please write back soon.

Hi Tamara,

I'm pleased that you want to visit Spain.

You should stay in a hostel because it will be cheaper than a hotel. You can look for one online and book it before you come.

I live in Barcelona and there are lots of fascinating monuments here. You must visit the Sagrada Familia which is a huge church. They started building it in the 1920s and it's still being built today.

There are lots of great festivals, but in September there's one called La Mercè. It's a cultural festival with performances and art exhibitions. Make sure you don't miss it!

I'll tell you more when we speak.

My son told me that I was the best dad in the world.

Ex 3

In this picture, there are four young people who are sitting at a table. I think they're sitting in a café or restaurant and it looks like they're drinking coffee. There are three men and a woman and I think they're celebrating the woman's birthday. The men have all got beards. One of the men is giving her a present and they're all smiling. I think the woman's surprised about the present because she looks a bit embarrassed.
