

Hi, I'm Hamed, an entrepreneur and English teacher, living in Istanbul, I have been teaching English as a second language, online, for over six years now, and before that, I taught English at different language centers for 10 years. I have a master's certificate in English teaching and I have completed my TESOL certificate. I have a full curriculum for whatever your needs may be. For general English, I have lessons a1 to c1, business English b1 to c1, grammar lessons as well as conversational English. For children, I have four different levels and I have taught children as young as five with no prior English knowledge. I would love to help you, your child, or both of you, along your English learning journey. So book a lesson today and let's get started
