

All About Dogs

Dogs are popular pets. There are many different types of dogs. Some are so small they can be carried in a purse! Others are as big as ponies! Dogs are mammals. They have fur and warm blood.

Dogs have a great sense of smell. Some are very smart. Farmers can teach dogs to herd sheep. They can help blind people cross roads and stay safe. Some dogs pull sleds in snowy countries.

Dogs love to exercise. They need plenty of food to eat and water to drink to stay healthy. Dogs also love to play. They like to run and fetch balls and sticks. Dogs need to be brushed, and their nails need to be clipped. Doing these things help keep dogs clean and healthy.

1. What makes a dog a mammal?
 - there are many different types of dogs
 - a great sense of smell
 - they can eat meats and plants
 - fur and warm blood
2. What does the word plenty mean?
 - a little bit
 - few
 - a lot
 - none
3. What should you do to keep your dog healthy?

Answers

1. What makes a dog a mammal?

- there are many different types of dogs
- a great sense of smell
- they can eat meats and plants
- fur and warm blood

2. What does the word plenty mean?

- a little bit
- few
- a lot
- none

3. What should you do to keep your dog healthy?

You should give them plenty of exercise, give them plenty of food and water, and brush their hair.