

Baking With Mom

Tim loves cookies. His mom is going to teach him to make them. Tim is excited to learn. First, he washes his hands. Then, Tim helps mom crack the eggs. Mom measures the ingredients. Tim adds the chocolate chips. He uses a spoon to mix. The cookies must bake. Tim does not like waiting. The timer goes off. The cookies are hot. Mom says, "The cookies have to cool." Tim is impatient and tired of waiting. Tim helps Mom clean up. It's finally time to eat! The cookies taste good. Tim loves baking with his mom.

Comprehension Questions

1. Where does this story take place?

- living room
- kitchen
- outdoors

2. Why does Tim have to wait to eat the cookies?

- The cookies are hot from cooking.
- The cookies still need to be baked.
- The cookies are burned.

3. How does Tim feel about waiting to eat the cookies?

- excited
- upset
- impatient

